—'NO PUBLIC DEBATE'—

Walker's Jabs Net Fast Reply

Washington (UPI) — Two cabinet members replied sharply Thursday to former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker's charges against themselves and subordinates.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara expressed full confidence in two aides accused by Walker of having been too soft toward communism. They were McNamara's special assistant, Adam Yarmolinsky, and Arthur Sylvester, assistant defense secretary for public affairs.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, whose dedication to U.S. interests was questioned by Walker, termed the former general's criticism "not worthy of comment." He took a similar attitude toward Walker's allegations against Walt W. Rostow, head of the State Department's policy planning staff.

No Debate

After Walker completed his testimony, McNamara issued a statement in which he defended the loyalty and competence of Yarmolinsky and Sylvester, but said he did not "propose to engage in a public debate with Mr. Walker."

Walker told the Senate group that Yarmolinsky had a "close connection" with communism.

McNamara said Thursday: 'prior to his employment, I reviewed the security file of Mr. Yarmolinsky as I did the files of others holding positions of trust and confidence in this department. Mr. Yarmolinsky's record is one of strong and active anti-communist activity. I have no question about his loyalty to the United States."

Worked For Paper

In his testimony, Walker said Sylvester once worked for a newspaper which advocated abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

To this, McNamara said: "the basis, if any, for Mr. Walker's charges against Arthur Sylvester is wholly unclear to me from the record. Lest there be any doubt on the issue, however, I wish to state that I have complete trust and confidence in nim."

McNamara also took note of Walker's testimony that he had sent a voting record of Congressmen compiled by a conservative organization to Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and had received an appreciative reply.

Unjustified

"The implication that Gen. Lemnitzer has given tacit approval to partisan political activities is wholly unjustified," McNamara said. "I can state of my own personal knowledge that Gen. Lemnitzer, a lifelong professional military officer, would never support any activity of a partisan political nature."

Rusk was told of Walker's contention that he did not have the best interests of the United States at heart while the cabinet member was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the foreign aid program.

He used the phrase "not worthy of comment" to deal with Walker's charges against both himself and Rostow. Of Rostow, the secretary said: "I'm happy to be associated with Mr. Rostow. He is an able and close colleague."

Rusk And CIA Poked By Walker

Washington (UPI) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker wound up a hectic Congressional appearance Thursday by hurling soft-on-communism charges at Secretary of State Dean Rusk, criticizing the CIA and taking a punch at a reporter.

He said he questioned Rusk and Walt W. Rostow, head of the State Department's policy planning staff, "with respect to our constitutional system, our sovereignty, our security and our independence." He also said Rostow controlled the "operating arm" of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Walker, who earlier peppered such officials as President Kennedy and former President Eisenhower, levelled his new wide-ranging allegations in a second and final appearance before the Senate subcommittee investigating alleged muzzling of military officials.

Statement

After leaving the hearing room, he read a statement for television and newsreel cameras with a knot of reporters standing about. As Walker finished, reporter Tom Kelly of the Washington Daily News started to ask a question.

But the former general, deposed commander of the 24th Division in Germany, jabbed out with his right fist, catching Kelly rather lightly in the left eye. Kelly's head rapped against a camera held by a photographer behind him.

The reporter said he wanted to ask Walker about a statement by George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi Party. Rockwell praised Walker Wednesday as he was being ejected from the hearing room for wearing a swastika emblem.

Not Painful

Kelly said the blow was not particularly painful.

At the end of Walker's testimony, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a staunch supporter, praised the former general as a great soldier and great American. But he said he did not agree with all of Walker's statements nor some of his methods.

Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Alaska, said there was no question but that Walker was a "dedicated American." Subcommittee Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said he thought of Walker as a field general.

Very Influential

Walker told the subcommittee that Rusk and Rostow were "very influential" in framing what he had called a "no-win" soft-on-communism policy.

He said he understood Rusk served on the staff of Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell in China in the 1940's during a period Walker referred to as "the agrarian reformer highlights." He said Rusk also was a member of the Institute of Pacific Relations, an organization that was investigated by the Senate internal security subcommittee.

Walker mentioned Rusk and Rostow after Bartlett asked him what he meant when he had complained that "the real control apparatus will not tolerate militant anti-communist leadership by a division commander."

Walker said he could not identify those in "complete control." But he said "the apparatus" could be identified "by its effects — what it did in Cuba — what it is doing in the Congo — what it did in Korea."

GENERAL SAYS NO CUT NOW

...Neb. Guard

Maj. Gen Lyle Welch, Nebraska adjutant general, said in Washington Thursday evening that he visualized no reduction in numbers of Nebraska National Guard troops at present, despite the Army's proposal to reorganize the Nebraska-Iowa 34th Infantry Division.

The general has been in Washington all week, representing Gov. Frank Morrison in presenting the state's case for preservation of the division.

Gen. Welch said the governor has been aware for several months that organizational changes were in the wind.

"He does not want to take any precipitate action, and when he does act he wants it to carry the full force of his office," Gen. Welch said.

The governor is administrative commander-in-chief of Nebraska guardsmen, although the 34th Division passes ultimately to the President for operational control.

Not By Oratory

Gov. Morrison said Thursday the Army's proposal "won't be settled by oratory."

He said he would not consent to anything affecting the strength and effectiveness of the Nebraska National Guard.

Gov. Morrison added that he probably was the first governor to send his adjutant general to Washington to try working out a solution.

Gen. Welch said his opinion is that Congress cannot change the allotment of Guard troops by states without the governors' approval.

Gambling Raid Nets 4 Arrests

Police late Thursday arrested 4 Lincoln men at the Stardust Club, 56th and O, in a gambling raid. More arrests may come Friday.

Detective Capt. Robert J. Sawdon said the men—a 31-year-old self-employed man, a 35-year-old meat cutter, and two truck drivers, 49 and 56—were discovered in a private dining room at the bottle club.

The 4 men are to appear in Municipal Court at 9 a.m. Friday. Police booked them on open charges and released them to their attorney.

Dice, Cash Found

Dice and money being used in a crap game were found on the table, he added. The amount of cash found was $40.

"The possibility of other arrests in the case will be decided by the city prosecutor after he reads police reports in the case," Sawdon said.

He emphasized that gambling is illegal anywhere inside Lincoln's city limits. If evidence of gambling is found, he noted, the gamblers are liable to prosecution.

No search warrant was used, Sawdon said. He said that the club's owner and operator admitted 4 police officers to the club and gave them permission to enter the private dining room.

ELECTROCUTED TV REPAIRMAN HOSPITALIZED

A television technician was electrocuted at the Shamrock Trailer Courts, 2545 Theresa, Thursday morning when he touched high-voltage wires.

The TV man, 25-year-old Roger Schmitt, was working on a TV aerial atop a structure when he was electrocuted. Firemen used a 24-foot ladder to take him down.

Early Friday he was reported in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Firemen said he suffered burns on his hands and feet.

Administration An Easy Winner

Bipartisan Compromise Sails Through, 70-22; House To Act

Washington (AP)—Senate Democrats and Republicans friendly to the United Nations combined Thursday night to grant President Kennedy authority to lend the world organization $100 million on easy terms.

Approved, 70 to 22, was a bipartisan compromise proposal that would allow the President to make the U.N. loan for 25 years and at 2% interest, if he wishes.

Again and again through a long legislative day, the coalition beat back efforts to weaken the President's discretionary authority and to limit executive powers to cooperate with U.N. peacemaking efforts.

The House has yet to act on the proposal, aimed at helping the United Nations out of a financial jam created by refusal of several members to pay special assessments for emergency operations in the Congo and Middle East.

The Senate rejected by a 72-20 vote, a substitute, offered by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, to limit U.S. financial aid to a $100 million loan, repayable in 3 years, at the higher interest rates this government pays for its money.

Just before its rejection, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., co-sponsor of the compromise, defended the United Nations and the administration-backed compromise in an emotional speech.

Dirksen, the GOP floor leader, closed the debate against the Hickenlooper substitute and Democrats willingly deferred to him.

The Illinois senator said he had found some things hard to take in the debate. For one thing, he said a Republican senator had called the compromise "specious" and roared: "That's an affront to the Senator from Illinois."

"Who would raise questions here about $100 million?" he demanded. "Why, we spend more than that on lipstick in this country in a year."

"And we are asking this for an organization that is trying to isolate the forces that bring the scourge of war to the world."

Dirksen said there were far more assurance in this bill than it had required in previous authorizations to former President Eisenhower.

Dirksen said he was quite willing to agree that many things done in the United Nations had displeased him adding:

"But I do not want to see this effort that began 17 years ago falter. I am not going to charge my conscience with a course of action that would go contrary to the foundation of the United Nations."

Nebraskans Against

Sen. Carl Curtis, Nebraska Republican, voted against the U.N. financing bill. Sen. Roman Hruska, the state's other GOP senator, was listed as paired against the measure.

Curtis and Hruska, did not vote but were announced as paired for the Russell amendment which was defeated, 72-21.

Morrison, Mrs. Brooks Trade Jibes

Omaha (AP) — Gov. Frank Morrison and Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks traded jibes Thursday as gubernatorial candidates from both parties made 10-minute talks at an Omaha Chamber of Commerce public affairs luncheon.

Mrs. Brooks charged that the issues of tax reform, state aid to schools, Interstate Highway construction, the rights of labor and other "basic issues" have lain dormant during the last 19 months and accused the administration of opening the door to certain mutual funds and investment firms which had been prohibited from doing business in Nebraska during her late husband's administration.

She declared one of these firms was reinstated without a public hearing and contended the State Banking Department is obligated to protect the public from firms which do not give a decent return on the investment.

Open Door Policy

Morrison declared that he had instituted an open door policy in the banking department for the first time and that no department had any instructions from him other than to deal fairly. He said no charters were granted without public hearing.

He also recited the accomplishments of his administration in industrial and tourist promotion, agricultural research, increased funds for education, and watershed development. There has been no comparable period in history during which so much industry has been developed from one end of Nebraska to the other, he said, and already tourism promotion has resulted in more Nebraskans spending more of their dollars to see Nebraska.

Tony Mangiamelli of Omaha, the third Democratic candidate, declared "what Nebraska needs is more Nebraskans," and said the job can be done by promotion at all levels.

Yearly Sessions

George A. Clarke, the lone Republican candidate who appeared in person, tossed in the idea of yearly sessions of the Nebraska Legislature, with one session devoted exclusively to the budget. He said that while an extra session each biennium would be more costly, the savings effected by this more careful consideration of fiscal matters might more than offset those costs.

Louis Hector, another Republican candidate, was not present, and Fred A. Seaton, the 3rd GOP candidate, was represented by Fred Irons, his campaign co-ordinator.

Morrison and Mangiamelli opposed the broadening of the tax base and Mrs. Brooks favored it. Clarke noted that there is a considerable difference of view between Omahans and some outstate interests on the tax structure and called on Omahans to "prove their point" against the sales and income taxes or accept the changes.

New Suspect In Acid Case

Police early Friday were interrogating a 21-year-old Omahan who was arrested Thursday in Omaha in connection with the March 17 acid-hurling case.

The man, 5th to be arrested in the case, was being questioned orally and was given a lie detector test.

The acid victim, 24-year-old Victor Pechar, suffered severe eye, face, arm, chest and leg injuries when he was attacked March 17 as he left his apartment at 501 So. 13th.

U.S., Russian Commanders Agree To Drop Restrictions

Berlin (AP) — U.S. and Soviet commanders agreed Thursday to restore freedom of movement to the U.S. liaison mission in Communist East Germany and to the Soviet mission in West Germany.

The agreement was reached at two meetings in Potsdam, East Germany, between Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, U.S. army commander in Europe, and Marshal Ivan S. Konev, Soviet commander in Germany.

The agreement, ending a series of restrictive moves and countermoves between Russia and the United States, called for resumption of normal mission activity.

No Mention

There was no public mention of the quarrel that caused the restrictions, touched off March 20 when East German police shot up a sedan of the U.S. military mission assigned to Soviet army headquarters in Potsdam.

Clarke protested at that time. Marshal Konev said he was sorry, but he did not give any assurance of safety for the mission in the future.

Clarke found this unacceptable. He announced March 29 that the Soviet mission in Frankfurt, West Germany, would be permitted to travel only under military escort.

Prompt Reply

Konev replied promptly by banning any movement of the U.S. mission out of Potsdam, unless it had a permit from his command. Special arrangements had to be made for the missions half dozen officers and a score of men to get back and forth over the few miles between the Potsdam headquarters and their homes in West Berlin.

This badly hobbled the only Americans able to move with any freedom around an area behind the Iron Curtain that is bigger than the state of Virginia.

The Soviets have hundreds of thousands of troops stationed in East Germany — troops that could be used in a major land offensive against Western Europe.

Not Affected

Military missions of Britain and France, which may also travel in East Germany, were not affected by the restrictions.

A British corporal was severely injured by the bullets of East German police in a similar incident earlier last month, but the British limited their counter action to protests. Britain was reported to have sent a tough diplomatic note to the Soviet Foreign Ministry on Monday.

Clarke got a good reception at Potsdam. There was an honor guard for him outside the Soviet Officers' Club, where the first meeting took place.

One informed source described the atmosphere as most cordial. Another said it was efficient and businesslike. How long the meetings lasted was not disclosed.

The result was to restore an agreement signed in 1947 establishing the missions and laying down the ground rules for them.

The Konev-Clarke talks plus the fact the Soviets have flown no harassment flights in West Berlin's air corridors for a week raised cautious speculation that Moscow — at least for the time being — has called off its campaign of irritation on Western access routes to the city.

PTA Council Election Ends With Resignation

. . . 'SMEAR' CHARGE VOICED

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln-Lancaster PTA Council thinks it has a new treasurer. The new treasurer thinks the council doesn't.

This unusual situation occurs after an equally unusual PTA Council election of officers Thursday. Other byproducts of the election are:

—An accusation of a smear campaign waged against the nominating committee's presidential choice.

—The fear that several PTA units might withdraw from the council.

Last month the nominating committee proposed this slate: president, Mrs. Kendall D. Schwab; vice president, Mrs. John Cooper; secretary, Mrs. Oscar H. Herman Jr.

Mrs. John Thompson, who has been vice president two years, was an 11th hour nominee from the floor. In the subsequent balloting, Mrs. Thompson was elected. Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Herman, unopposed, also were elected.

Treasurer Resigns

Mrs. Herman thereupon announced, in a prepared statement, that she was resigning for ethical and moral reasons.

"I was given to the understanding that I would be working with Mrs. Schwab," she said later, "but under these circumstances I would not be able to do the job justice."

President Mrs. E. E. Tice said the Board of Managers had not accepted the resignation and probably would not.

Earlier in the meeting Mrs. Harvey H. Stoltzman, like Mrs. Schwab a member of the Merle Beattie PTA, claimed somebody had waged a telephone smear campaign against Mrs. Schwab's views.

Mrs. Tice later confirmed that a few persons had been "carried away" because Mrs. Thompson had not been nominated, and had made the phone calls.

The dispute bid fair to weaken the council, Mrs. Tice feared. A PTA unit president confirmed this, predicting that at least 3 units were considering withdrawing from the council.

Meanwhile, the question who was going to count the money after new officers are installed next month was the thing that worried some observers.

President Asks Half Billion To Help Cities Untie Their Traffic Snarls

...Holds Hope For Air, Rail And Bus Bargain Rates

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy asked Congress Thursday for $500 million over the next three years as a first step toward helping cities unsnarl traffic facilities outmoded by mushrooming suburbs and growing use of autos.

And Kennedy held out hope that air, rail and bus travelers can enjoy bargain rates by recommending that Congress remove federal control over minimum intercity fares. This was the highlight of his call for a drastic overhaul of what the President described as "a chaotic patchwork of inconsistent and often obsolete" laws and rules governing transportation.

Kennedy said he is convinced "that less federal regulation and subsidization is in the long run a prime prerequisite of a healthy intercity transportation network."

The chief executive's 10,000-word message spelled out his solutions for pressing problems "burdening our national transportation system, jeopardizing the progress and security on which we depend."

He ignored former President Eisenhower's recommendation for creation of a government department of transportation. The message, cancelled last year and delayed this year, is the last of several Kennedy sent to Congress this year detailing his proposals for the nation.

Kennedy said answers to the transportation problems could not be reached quickly or easily but that "the complexity of these basic troubles will not correct themselves with the mere passage of time."

"We cannot afford to delay further," he declared. "Facing up to the realities of the situation, we must begin to make the painful decisions necessary."

$100 Million First Year

Kennedy asked Congress to make available $100 million during the fiscal year starting July 1 as the first installment of his $500-million program to help cities untangle their traffic problems. The money would be made available to public agencies in the form of direct grants to be matched by local, nonfederal contributions.

The President also asked that congress:

1. Provide federal loans for urban mass transportation by removing the time limit on the $50-million loan authorization voted last year.

2. Authorize for 3 years emergency grants for mass transportation undertakings.

In addition to calling for removal of federal controls over minimum intercity passenger fares, Kennedy urged that the floor be removed from minimum rates on bulk cargo and agricultural and fishery products.

Fulbright Act 'Bigger And Better'

Like most everything else, the Fulbright-Hays Act is "bigger and better than ever," according to staunch advocates.

One of these, Francis Young, executive secretary of the Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, Thursday night reported:

"The act liberalizes provisions to the older act. Basically there is nothing new, just several expansions."

The Washington D.C. official is in Lincoln for the midwest regional conference on opportunities under the Fulbright-Hays Act at the Nebraska Center. The conference closes Friday.

"We can do much more under the new act which was passed late last summer," he said.

Enhances Chances

The widely publicized act provides funds for international student exchange which, according to Young, greatly enhances the chances for universal understanding.

"Such a program," one conference delegate noted, "is vital to the exchange of ideas. It cannot be replaced, regardless of the cost."

The new Fulbright-Hays revisions provide for:

—the development of lectures and seminars of American studies in foreign countries.

—the giving of grants to non-governmental institutions to make evaluations of the act's program.

—the giving of funds to worthy scholars to attend specific international meetings on various topics.

—the molding of a more flexible administrative program.

—the exchange of artistical talents and ideas.

Young said program officials are presently encouraging the enlistment of artists in many fields into the program.

"Such people can become cultural ambassadors. Sometimes their influence is greater than that of the academic people," he added.

Sen. Vosoba Heads State Czech Inc.

By TED TURPIN
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Wilber—State Sen. Joseph Vosoba was elected president of Nebraska Czech Inc. Thursday night as nearly 500 persons from southeastern Nebraska met to start the wheels turning and make Wilber a tourist attraction of Czechoslovakian culture.

Featured speaker on the program was Gov. Frank Morrison, who told the audience, sprinkled with gaily-costumed men and women, that "No man has contributed more in common sense and wisdom to Nebraska than Joe Vosoba."

The governor thanked "all you pioneers, whether Czech or not, for the heritage and love of freedom you have given us."

Seacrest Speaks

Another speaker was Joe R. Seacrest of the Lincoln Journal who praised Wilber's initiative in making a tourist attraction of the town's Czech background.

He said he hoped Wilber will think in terms of area promotion for tourists, drawing visitors also to the nearby Hallam Atomic Plant, the Homestead National Monument and the beauties of the Blue River in southeastern Nebraska.

Mayor-elect Walter Baer outlined a few of the plans for Wilber's big Czech festival scheduled Aug. 3 and 4 of this year.

Professional Workers Told Disaster Tips

In natural and nuclear disasters, a premature baby's life may depend on its parents improvising an incubator, 22 state disaster experts were told Thursday night.

After the 3rd annual meeting of the Nebraska State Medical Assn.' medical Disaster committee, Dr. J. G. Wiedman of Lincoln said an improvised incubator can be made out of two cardboard boxes and old newspapers.

The incubator improvisation method is but one of many points contained in the medical self-help Training kit which the disaster committee plans to foster.

State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers said 32 such kits have been allocated Nebraska by the federal office of Civil Defense.

Dr. Wiedman told the disaster experts that the self-help kit is designed to teach ordinary Nebraskans "what to do when the doctor is not coming at all." The nationwide goal, he added, is to train 5 million laymen by 1964.

Developed by the U.S. Public Health Service at the behest of the American Medical Association, the training kit contains 12 lessons which take 16 hours to cover.

In other aspects of disaster planning, Austin Bacon, state civil defense resources management officer, pointed out that training of laymen can be done best on an area basis.

Welch Continues Fight For Guard

nounced Wednesday, would reorganize the 34th division, along with 3 other Guard divisions and 4 reserve divisions, into a flexible brigade structure. It must have the approval of governors as well as congressional approval, Gen. Welch said.

Gen. Welch said the governor and he were endeavoring to take a "rational, objective cool approach." Welch said he has conferred with the undersecretary of the Army for manpower and other "eminent" Pentagon officials.

"We've made a pretty good representation for the 34th Division and the Nebraska Guard," he said.

"All isn't lost by any means," he added.

He said he did not believe the proposed deactivation of the division was justified on the basis of arguments he had heard.

"It is a little beyond my comprehension," he said, citing the division's long World War II record. He said it seemed a poor time to eliminate organized Guard fighting units.

Elsewhere, the cry "politics" was being raised by Republican politicians in the Midwest.

Nebraska Sen. Carl Curtis said, "It's another example of ill-conceived actions by the amateur productions going on in Washington and from the areas affected by the orders, it smacks of politics."

'Grab For Power'

Rep. Ralph Beerman of the 3rd District said it was another of the Kennedy administration's grab for power, reducing local and state rights in favor of further nationalization.

Criticizing the Defense Department's proposal, Iowa Gov. Norman Erbe said:

"Politics may well have something to do with it. This seems to be the pattern of operation by the administration. They are taking it away from strong Republican States." Erbe is a Republican.

Iowa's Congressional delegation held a meeting, United Press International reported, to draft a protest statement to Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr.

Republican senators from Kansas, where the deactivation of the 35th Division would affect Kansas and Missouri, were dismayed.

Sen. Frank Carlson said he would oppose the Army's plan, and Sen. James B. Pearson said, "I deplore the abandonment of this and any other unit which has served with fame and courage."

The National Guard Association predicted the plan would not be carried out.

Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, president of the association, said Congress and governors "have a sounder understanding of the nation's military requirements than do the Pentagon's young and inexperienced slide-rule manipulators."

BUICK SPECIAL ALUMINUM V-8 BEATS ALL COMPACT AND FULL-SIZE V-8'S

Can a V-8 give straight 6's a run for the money? Yes, indeed—if it's the aluminum V-8 in a Buick Special. In this year's Mobil Economy Run, a finely tuned Buick Special finished just an eyelash behind the two 6's among luxury compacts. The winning mileage in class D was 24.85 mpg. The Special V-8 racked up a whopping 23.68 with regular gas. Close? You bet.

This figure means that now you can buy a V-8 for economy, too, and get fast-stepping zip as a bonus with Buick.

In the Mobil Run all cars are driven by trained drivers so you can't normally expect as good mileage. BUT—whether you're a pro or not, the V-8 Special's combination of high performance and economy is sure to prove a mighty pleasant surprise.

Dosek Conspiracy Charge Dismissed

. . . OTHER COUNT TO JURY

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

A conspiracy charge against Edwin F. Dosek was dismissed Thursday but the Lancaster District Court jury is expected to begin deliberation Friday morning on the second charge—of obtaining money by false pretenses.

Lincoln Attorney Dosek had been charged with obtaining money by false pretenses in connection with an insurance claim on the Employers Mutual Insurance Co. of Wisconsin and conspiring with the firm's claims adjuster Robert Markel to make false representations to the company to commit the felony.

Defense attorneys W. O. Baldwin and Farley Young had asked the court to dismiss both charges.

However, presiding District Judge John Zeilinger of York ruled the obtaining money by false pretenses charge should go to the jury.

In dismissing the conspiracy count, Judge Zeilinger stated the complaint failed to allege specifically an overt act.

Prior to the motions by the defense, the state presented two bank employes as rebuttal witnesses.

Clark Braymen, a National Bank of Commerce employe, testified that Dosek had given the Joseph Clark draft to him for approval for cashing in the bank and identified his initials on the draft.

He said that he would "certainly not" have approved the cashing of a draft had the person presenting the draft to him not been the person whose signature appeared last on the back.

JoAnn McVey, teller at the First Continental National Bank, testified that she had cashed the Robert Hester draft for Dosek.

She further stated that she never cashes checks for anyone other than the person whose endorsement appears last on the back.

Knew Defendant

Both Braymen and Mrs. McVey stated that they were acquainted with the defendant Dosek.

In earlier testimony, Dosek stated that he did not cash either the Hester or Clark checks but merely endorsed them for Markel to cash.

Dosek identified his signature as the last one to appear on the back of the Hester draft but stated that his name was not on the front of the draft at the time he endorsed it for "identification" purposes.

He also told the jury that he didn't recall having seen the front of the Clark draft but vertified that the endorsement on the back was his signature.

Markel, presently serving a sentence for both counts on which Dosek was originally charged, testified that he had not cashed either the Hester or Clark drafts but had given them to Dosek, who cashed them and gave him half the overpayment.

Lincoln attorney Donald Grant, who shares offices but is not a partner of Dosek, testified that he recalled Dosek coming into his office with a check or draft from the Employers Mutual firm in the spring of 1961 but that he was "not sure" that it was the Hester draft.

Recalled Question

Grant said he recalled Dosek asking his advice about endorsing the draft for Markel for identification purposes.

He said he told Dosek it wasn't a "usual procedure" but "if the payee doesn't care, why should you?"

When asked if he had any knowledge as to whether Dosek kept any of the money or as to what happened to it, Grant answered, "I haven't the faintest idea."

A 16th character witness, Msgr. Mitchell Kaczmarek, pastor of St. Teresa's Catholic Church, told the jury that Dosek's reputation for honesty and integrity was "excellent" and for truth and veracity "exceptional."

In closing arguments, County Attorney Paul Douglas told the jury that the "defense has paraded 16 character witnesses" into the courtroom but if they marched "16,016 witnesses to testify about his character, it would not change the information in this case one iota."

He quoted Abraham Lincoln as saying, " 'You can fool some of the people all of the time, and you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time.' "

"No man has done so much he can hold his head up high and say that I should not be prosecuted because I have accomplished all of this,' " Douglas said.

'It's His Duty'

He pointed out that it is his duty as county attorney to file complaints against anyone regardless of his professional status whether he be a "stranger or a friend with whom I have worked closely" if he (county attorney) has information that a crime has been committed by this person.

If this were not the case, "we would be making a mockery out of the judiciary," Douglas added.

Baldwin and Young in closing arguments emphasized the testimony as to Dosek's character.

Baldwin said that a way of living becomes a "habit."

"Nobody will change his way of living . . . to receive a "measley $100 out of a bum like Markel," Baldwin said.

Young said that it would be a "catastrophe" for a person of Dosek's "caliber" to be convicted on the basis of information of Markel — "a confessed liar, felon, forger and crook."

'Wanted Money'

He said the reason Markel made the drafts out for greater sums than the settlements was because he "wanted all the money; he didn't want part of it."

Baldwin pointed out to the jury that since the Hester case was the only one with which Dosek is charged that that is the "only case you can consider."

He emphasized that Dosek "is innocent" until proven beyond a "reasonable doubt" to be guilty as charged.

"The only man who disputes Dosek's remarks under oath is Markel. How can you believe a man who is a drunkard, felon, liar and cheat is telling the truth," Baldwin added.

Federal Tax Lien Names W. D. Ray

A federal tax lien was filed against William D. Ray and his wife, Emma, in the amount of $8,170.56 according to a lien filed in the Lancaster County Register of Deeds office.

The lien, which is for 1957 income taxes, was not filed against any specific property.

Silver Leaves Eastern Mint

Final bags of silver dollars totaling $1,000,000 are dumped into strong boxes in one of two trucks which left Philadelphia Mint Thursday for the World's Fair at Seattle. The money, which will be under heavy guard during the 13-day 3,290 mile haul, is being emptied by Capt. Charles K. Meade, left, of Philadelphia, and Sgt. L. R. Brahay of Omaha, both Pinkerton guards. Barred windows in the sides of the trucks will enable spectators to see part of the money at stops enroute.

Trek Begins For Thirty Tons Silver

Omaha (AP) — Thirty tons of silver dollars, $1 million worth, will arrive in Omaha at 10:30 a.m. Monday enroute from the Philadelphia Mint to the World's Fair at Seattle.

The silver, to be on display at the fair, is being hauled through 11 states by sponsorship of the Behlen Manufacturing Co., of Columbus, Neb., which will sponsor the fair exhibit.

The silver dollars, traveling by truck with an armed guard, left Philadelphia Thursday. It's expected to take 10 days to make the trip to Seattle.

Marvin Will Preside Over Beauty Pageant

Beatrice (AP) — Tony Marvin of the Arthur Godfrey television show will be the master of ceremonies at the Miss Nebraska pageant here June 14-16, Bill Cook of the Beatrice Junior Chamber of Commerce said.

People Need 'Hell-Raiser' In Congress

. . . Says Bonner

Omaha (AP) — Dr. Tom Bonner, the history professor seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress, said Thursday night that the people need "a hell-raiser" in Congress.

In an address prepared for local 47 of the United Packinghouse Workers Union, Bonner declared that the people of this district need "someone who cares deeply about the problems of working people, one who will fight hard for the kind of programs that President Kennedy is backing, one who really understands something of communism can do more than propose pious resolutions against Communist mail."

Bonner cited 3 recent actions attributed to Rep. Glenn Cunningham, the Republican incumbent.

He said Cunningham voted against more money for the Peace Corps "this man has no faith in our youth . . . " He said Cunningham voted against "the Kennedy program for tightening expense allowances and making sure that Uncle Sam gets his share of profits drawn from dividends and stocks . . . unless you want a yacht . . . or have a large allowance for theater tickets and liquor for visiting clients — then Mr. Cunningham voted against you and your best interest."

He said Cunningham criticized the appointment of Byron "Whizzer" White to the Supreme Court "because White had the temerity to say that Cunningham had no idea of what he was talking about in the hearings on the postal bill and the ban on red mail."

Individual Has It

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A significant change in the Soviet system has been announced by Pravda, the official voice of the Communist party. The change calls for the making of incentive payments on an individual basis within the industry of the Soviet Union. This is opposed to the collective system that has been employed in the past where, at best, only large groups could make a wage in excess of another group.

The Classless Society

The announcement clearly stated that it is only through individual incentive that production can be increased. Such a statement as this could well come from the mouth of any politican in the United States. It would be ridiculous to assume from this thing that Russia has suddenly seen the light, that she will now revert to a full free enterprise system. This is a long way from happening but the action is another indictment, self-delivered, of the Russian system of communism. This is a system that was built by Marx and Engels on the foundation of collectivism and the dream of a classless society.

A fundamental of this system is that man is a product of his environment, that matter is everything and that mind is nothing in the ultimate molding of humanity. Thus, man is a product of the society in which he lives and wide differences in this society must lead to conflicts. These conflicts, in turn, lead to changes and the process will continue until the world has become classless.

In the light of this philosophy, the payment of incentive wages is somewhat remarkable. Of course, Russia has never had the classless society of which it talks because the communists themselves have been a favored group. But the classless idea has been sold to the masses. The change is evidence that the idea doesn't work whether it was believed by the masses or not.

Communism was the product, of course, of times in the U.S.S.R. when the ruling czars exercised their power to the degeneration of the working classes. It is a product of persecution, privilege and discrimination which is another thing that we should remember. But like so many movements that start to right an evil, it ended up in a fanatical devotion to a substitute system just as bad as what it replaced. The United States was the product, too, of human injustices but it maintained its perspective. It kept in mind that the individual had to be the dominant characteristic of any society which hoped to prosper.

It has been a lack of wisdom that has caused Russia to follow the course it has, as has been the case in country after country when dictatorial systems have taken over. They have failed to see that the cure for their ills could be found only within the individual. This does not mean anarchy as some people even in America seem to advocate so often, but it does mean that the individual primarily must be responsible for his own destiny. He must assume personal responsibility for the kind of life he intends to live, for the education he will obtain, for the work he will do and the family he will raise. There are endless things of a personal nature that only the individual can do for himself and he enters into a collective state only on a very limited basis. This is still very true here in the United States and in many other free nations.

This nation's heritage comes from the devotion of people to the cause of freedom, from the desire of each and every person to live as his conscience dictates. When there were injustices in our system, the people themselves acted to change the situation through voting, organization, etc. But our people have never surrendered their rights to any limited or superior authority.

Russia believed that it would hasten the day of perfection by force but it has found that this cannot be done. It has found that it can no more force conformity than it can force non-conformity. It can no more live in an absolute classless society than man can live in an abusive class arrangement. It has tried to go to an extreme just the opposite from that which it hated.

The Need For Incentive

In the payment of its workers, Russia has found that there must be some incentive and that there can be no incentive so long as the rewards for labor are the same in all cases. If the person willing to make a more determined effort is forced to the level of those who want to loaf, then the willing person soon becomes an indifferent if not hostile one. This is not a purely materialistic attitude to be throttled or condemned. Russia has attempted to make it appear as such but the change they have now made in paying incentive wages is proof of how wrong she has been.

If the desire to seek improvement is ever stifled, all civilization would slip into a downhill slide and with it would go the dignity of mankind. People need to want things to be better than they are and they cannot be driven like a herd of cattle down the same path to achieve the same objectives.

Cutting The Guard

The Army no doubt expected a blast against its plan to reorganize certain National Guard and Reserve units. It could be expected because some areas will lose their Guard or Reserve units in a move to consolidate for a more effective fighting force. But this is a political objection which the Congress should throw out the window.

The Army plan should be carefully examined by the Congress to make sure that it provides the nation with improved strength as it is supposed to do. In making this determination, the Congress will need to assess the strength of units as they now exist. On the basis of recent experiences, it would seem that the Army has a strong case to present.

In the call-up of Guard and Reserve units in connection with the Berlin crisis, there has been a definite morale problem and a question as to the readiness of many units. It is common knowledge that much of the training of these units is in obsolete ways and with obsolete equipment. Their capability in matters of modern warfare have long been questioned by many people and it is time that the matter was settled.

This has nothing to do with dedication of many Guard and Reserve personnel but it is suggested that this dedication might be toward a goal that no longer serves the purpose for which the Guard and Reserve are intended. It has nothing to do, either, with the past performance of these units in time of war. The question now before the house has to do with the future and a war potential that is different in all respects than anything we have known before. Those who oppose the reorganization plan have an obligation to show the merits of the present setup. It is not enough that they complain of a local economic loss and a political liability.

Faubus Retirement

Governor Orville Faubus, after five terms in the Arkansas statehouse, has explained that he is tired and needs time to rest, and perhaps write a book. He is not going to be a candidate for re-election.

The governor's claim to national recognition rests mainly on his intransigence on the matter of desegregating the Little Rock schools. He was successful enough at the outset to warrant President Eisenhower sending in the paratroopers. Later he thought up any number of dodges to impede integration. He was moderately successful. But as is the case when a man fights a law he finally gets tired, but the law does not. His case is a lesson to others, who, if they cannot develop equally dedicated successors, cannot win in the long pull.

It is understandable that the governor may wish to break off the fight for the purpose of recuperation. And it will be interesting to see whether at some future time he will return to the fray. But what is of more immediate concern is that he may not mean what he says about retiring. He was only specific about retiring from the governorship. But he didn't say anything about not running for the United States Senate. And he has until May 2 to file for that.

A governor who can win five successive terms is a proven vote getter. As a candidate Gov. Faubus could not be lightly dismissed as an opponent to Sen. Fullbright, Arkansas's distinguished chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, a man as greatly needed by the nation in the years immediately ahead as in the past. So let us hope that Gov. Faubus really means to take time off from public life.

Act Of Contrition

The Southern newspapers recently had an interesting piece of news which somehow did not win national circulation.

The news was to the effect that the State of Georgia had finally gotten around to wiping the slate clean of harsh, discriminatory and restrictive laws enacted against the Cherokee Indians 130 years ago.

The state went even further. It invited all the Cherokees to come home for a brotherly welcome, plus a special event, namely, the restoration of the capital of the Cherokee nation in northern Georgia.

Consulting history, even though it was written by the winner, the Cherokee matter was one in which those Indians possessed fine land which the early settlers wanted. They took care of the matter by running off the Cherokees, establishing original title to the property, themselves. Then after this extra-legal act they turned law abiding again and went to the legislature and enacted laws barring the employment of any Cherokee or Creek Indian by a white man, disqualifying Cherokees as witnesses in any court, forbidding them to assemble for any purpose, voiding all contacts made by or with them and referring to them in degrading language. After such a stiff lesson in the virtue of private ownership of property the Cherokees wound up in Oklahoma, that is, that remnant which did not die on the way.

It is touching that the Georgians now are ready to forgive the Cherokees, though, of course, we all know that nothing can be done to eradicate the fact of the Cherokee's crime which was to own something that others coveted. But if the Georgians are going to such length to exonerate themselves, it might be suggested that they go one step farther. Give back the land.

Police Protest Liston Match

WASHINGTON—The much-publicized heavyweight boxing match between Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston may not come off as such big box office if any more police groups tell the truth about Liston.

The Fraternal Order of Police, Susquehanna Valley Lodge No. 52 in the Philadelphia area where Liston lives, has protested publicly and vigorously against the bout.

"Based on his past record, and what appears to be his unwillingness to change," say the police, "we of the Susquehanna Valley Fraternal Order of Police, are agreed that if Mr. Liston is given the opportunity and wins the heavyweight title, it will have an adverse effect on those we as police officers are concerned with — the young men and women of this region, of Pennsylvania and the nation."

The police resolution then recited Liston's record as "having hired himself out as a labor goon, using his fists unlawfully against men not so well physically equipped in St. Louis; as having beaten up a police officer; impersonated a police officer; being a convicted armed robber who has served two terms in prison, and being arrested at least nine times on a variety of charges.

"We strongly object to Mr. Liston getting an opportunity to influence young people toward a way of life which is not only un-Christian but diametrically opposed to all that is good in America."

Note — Sen. Estes Kefauver, who exposed some of the above facts re Liston in his probe of boxing, warned Floyd Patterson when Patterson called on him last winter that Liston had not cleaned himself up.

Political observers have spotted a telltale portion of Richard Nixon's new book which most newspapers overlooked. It's a paragraph that the former vice president probably wishes he'd never written.

On Page 384 Nixon describes the late W. Alton Jones, former head of Cities Service, as "one of our major financial contributors."

Nixon then quotes Jones as telling him, after his 1960 election: "This is just like a horse race. When you bet on a horse and he loses by a nose after being bumped in the stretch, you are disappointed, but you figure you had a good run for your money."

The book, of course, went to press before Jones's tragic death in the crash of the jet airliner as the genial oil tycoon was en route to California carrying $61,000 in cash and traveler's checks.

Nixon has denied that the money was intended for his campaign for governor of California, but the forgotten paragraph in his book is more revealing to political observers than the denial.

DORIS FLEESON

Goldberg The New Cinderella

WASHINGTON — The Cinderella of the cabinet during recent administrations has been the secretary of labor. In the Kennedy regime, he is beginning to look like the flower of the flock.

The omens were not all that favorable when Prince Charming Kennedy first fitted the glass slipper on the foot of labor lawyer Arthur Goldberg.

Business groaned because Goldberg had been the principal architect of higher steel-wage settlements which had to be forced upon the industry by the Eisenhower administration. Labor leaders grumbled that he was not really one of them but was their employee.

All this is being shoved into the background this coming week end when the secretary will be host at a conference for about 200 labor editors and reporters. It is in the pattern of the President's own industrious cultivation of editors and publishers and of State Department seminars explaining foreign policy to similar groups.

The secretary says he thought of the idea when he discovered, in traveling around the country, that many reporters viewed the labor department only in terms of the big strikes.

AFL-CIO president George Meany will entertain for the visiting firemen; Vice-President Lyndon Johnson will address them. Meany, incidentally, was one of the early grumblers against the choice of Goldberg, preferring someone deeper in labor's councils.

Goldberg now confronts the assembled labor press as the driving force behind the first peaceable steel settlement since 1954. It has been widely praised because of its moderate, non-inflationary terms; even Congress seems happy with it.

It continues to be administration policy that the federal government should keep strikes from happening as much as possible and intervene whenever it seems indicated, especially in key industries. It is possible that a new triumph is in the making even as the present news conference takes shape.

All this is very different from the recent past. President Eisenhower began with eight millionaires and a plumber and the plumber soon quit in disgust. His successor, the able James P. Mitchell, was always hampered by his business-minded cabinet colleagues, and only Eisenhower's personal liking for him enabled him to make the creditable record he did.

☆ ☆ ☆

President Truman gave labor its way on the secretary but failed to establish close relations with the labor movement as a whole until his second term. Nor could he do it much good with Congress. President Roosevelt was his own negotiator with many labor leaders and personally admired and helped his woman labor secretary, Frances Perkins. But she had the thinnest time of all of them with Congress and was often made scapegoat in matters where they dared not cross Roosevelt.

THEY WALKED WITH CHRIST

The Girl Restored

"And He took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise."
—Mark V:41

Luke tells us that this girl, daughter of Jairus, was about twelve years old, but he does not divulge the nature of her illness nor give her name.

Her father, the governor of a synagogue, sought Jesus out, asking Him to heal his only daughter.

But even as he was asking help, a messenger arrived from his house telling him that the girl was already dead.

Jesus, however, told the anxious father that he need not fear. "Believe only, and she shall be made whole."

When He came to the house with Jairus, funeral ceremonies were already in progress. But again Jesus reassured the grieving parent. "The damsel is not dead, but sleepeth."

By this, He apparently meant that her soul was not so far departed that He could not summon it again into the body, for when Jesus took her by the hand and told her to arise, Luke says:

"Her spirit came again, and she arose straightway."

Jesus then directed that she be given food to restore her depleted physical energy.

Her parents were naturally astonished because, although they had faith that Jesus might heal her of her illness, they had little hope that He could bring her back from the dead.

Jesus cautioned them "that they should tell no man what was done."

Some Bible scholars say that He enjoined secrecy because the time of His suffering and death had not yet come; and He did not want to provide a pretext for the rulers to conspire against Him.

As a matter of fact, when the chief priests did demand His death, they based their condemnation partly on His miracles.

"What do we, for this man doth many miracles? If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him; and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation."

Why, then, did Jesus perform such miracles? Many believe that it was to identify Himself as One having divine approbation and divine power.

"If I do not the works of my father, believe me not," He declares in John X:37. "But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Defense Spending Now Political Hay

LOS ANGELES — The competition to get defense contracts promises to be a major issue in the congressional campaign this fall and nowhere will it be more acute than in this area where government spending for arms has accounted for so generous a proportion of payrolls.

California has led all states as the principal producer and supplier of defense goods and in research and development. The study made by the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, still marked secret because some senators oppose its publication, showed that of the $22 billions of defense sales covered in an elaborate questionnaire, $5.4 billions, or 23 per cent, came from this one state.

That was in 1959 and, while the percentage may have dropped some, at least insofar as aircraft production is concerned with the phasing out of the manned bomber, it is still high. Of the 19 separate military products covered by the study, California ranked first in eight — new aircraft, parts and modification of old aircraft, missiles and components, ground-based equipment for missiles, space vehicles, research and development on missiles, research and development on aircraft, and the production of steel for defense uses.

Today as the pattern rapidly shifts, both geographically and in the nature of defense production, the political heat is on out here. Unemployment in the San Diego area is between 7.5 and 8.5 per cent, although at the same time there is record over-all employment. Convair is down from 18,000 to 7,000. Last year General Dynamics Corporation lost $143,000,000. With the need to create 250,000 new jobs a year to meet the demand of the newcomers pouring into the state, California must run fast in order to stand still.

Making the adjustment from the manned bomber to the missile age is bound to be painful. But, beyond that, if peace — or gradually phased disarmament agreement — should break out, the transition will be difficult. A significant summation of the study made by the disarmament committee, a copy of which has been obtained by leaders in the aircraft industry, is as follows:

"It is quite apparent that an arms-control agreement which curtailed production of military aircraft would have far-reaching economic effects. If, under such agreement, no new combat aircraft could be produced, no replacement of parts for existing airplanes could be made and research and development on aircraft were prohibited, almost $8.5 billions would be involved for the companies in this study.

"Eighty per cent of new aircraft production represented by the companies included in this study, 84 per cent of production of aircraft parts and 99 per cent of aircraft research and development costs in 1959 were paid for by the federal government for defense purposes. The number of workers involved was over 480,000. They received almost $3 billions in salaries and wages. Another $4 billions went for supplies and raw materials, and $572,000,000 was paid to other companies for subcontracting services."

When he was campaigning for president in October of 1960, Richard Nixon, speaking in the center of the aircraft industry in southern California, suggested that perhaps the time had come to subsidize the development of civilian aircraft. He proposed a special presidential air policy commission that would re-evaluate the whole aviation picture, both civilian and defense, and come up with specific recommendations by the end of 1961.

In the heat of the campaign, this proposal was lost sight of. But with the dispute over construction of the RS-70 and with the losses incurred by certain of the big aircraft companies in producing commercial jets, it has been brought to light again.

Recently Britain and France entered into an agreement to share the cost and the technical skill in producing a superior aircraft. And while the production of a civilian aircraft, at the cost of several billions of dollars, has obvious military advantages, a case can be made for maintaining American supremacy in the civilian field with government help. That, at any rate, is likely to be the argument soon to be made, and it will have echoes in the fierce political campaign between Nixon and Gov. Edmund G. Brown, and by proxy at least against the Kennedy administration.

The San Diego Union published not long ago the record of space and missile contracts that had gone to cities in southern and midwestern states. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Project Apollo in Houston, Texas, will eventually mean a payroll of $3,000 and the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars for designing and testing a moon vehicle and training the crew that will make the first round trip. The McDonnell Aircraft Corporation in St. Louis is building the Mercury spacecraft and developing the Gemmini two-man spaceship, which is said to have a $500,000,000 price tag. New Orleans, Tulsa, Okla., and Huntsville, Ala., are all getting big new space contracts.

Nixon is saying that the contracts should go to southern California not because of the need for employment but because the skills are here.

No Immunity

Blair, Neb.

It is just a little bit unbelievable that the Nebraska Real Estate Commission headed by Secretary of State Marsh and dominated by Republicans would delay action in severing State Senator M. Lautenschlager, Republican, of Grand Island, from his real estate license. Is there some kind of an immunity which protects politicians from paying for their purported or proven misdeeds?

Little wonder that crimes never cease. Malefactors all too often are treated with the "velvet glove"—a slap on the wrist. Could this be another political whitewash?

Upper Peninsula Folks Want To Bet

St. Ignace, Mich. (AP)—Rebels in Michigan's Upper Peninsula have issued an ultimatum to the rest of the state. Either legalize gambling in Michigan's North Woods or prepare for secession.

Some residents of the economically-depressed Upper Peninsula are all for creating their own little empire financed by legalized gambling instead of taxes, but not so the peninsula's state legislators.

Michigan legislators from both sides of the straits of Mackinac — the dividing line between the state's two peninsulas — have labeled such talk of secession "a joke" and "a publicity stunt."

Will Succeed

But the group of Upper Peninsula businssmen who started the movement to achieve independence for the area above the straits predict it will succeed.

Already, an "Upper Peninsula Independence Association" has been formed to spearhead the movement. Its chief supporter, John D. Steel, 54, a former Detroit businessman who grew up in Upper Michigan, has launched what he calls "operation bootstrap," working from a motel here.

"Most people up here are for the idea," Steel argued. "We are a nebulous organization now, but we'll be a powerful one before long."

$1 Million

Steel said a Detroit man has offered to raise $1 million to help finance Steel's promotion. However, he expects most of the money to come from Las Vegas and Chicago.

The idea of legalizing gambling in Michigan's North Woods as a way of revitalizing the area's sagging economy has been kicking around the Upper Peninsula for years.

Steel said he resurrected the idea because of two developments:

—The draining of many tourists from Upper Michigan by Ontario's new highway around the Lake Superior shore, and Canada's "open arms" policy toward visitors.

Jobs Dwindling

—The dwindling number of jobs available to the area's residents in the wintertime.

Steel said that his program, if adopted, would bring year around employment and prosperity to Upper Michigan and stabilize its tax structure.

His believes are shared by Upper Peninsula delegates to the state constitutional convention, which is in the process of rewriting the basic law of Michigan.

Former Sheriff

Delegate Frank P. Perlich, a former county sheriff from the Upper Peninsula, told the convention:

"We want the right to all kinds of gambling like they do in Nevada. If we don't get it, we are going to demand that the convention set the boundaries of the state at the lake shores of the Lower Peninsula."

Citing legalized gambling as the "only possible way out of an economic crisis caused by exhaustion of copper and iron ore" in the area, where mining not long ago was the chief industry, Perlich blamed "lower Peninsula selfishness' for the U.P.'s desperation.

Attache Transferred

Santiago, Chile (AP) — The U.S. Embassy said Lawrence B. Elsbernd. its commercial attache, has been transferred to Buenos Aires and will not return to Washington as previously reported.

Welfare Rates For Physicians 'Fairly Uniform'

Omaha (AP)—Regulations determining payments to doctors who care for indigent patients are fairly uniform in Nebraska, State Welfare Director Frank Woods said Thursday.

"They are established with the advice and consultation of a Nebraska Medical Association committee," he said here.

Woods' comments were in connection with a decision of two Bloomfield doctors to treat welfare patients free rather than comply with restrictions imposed by the Knox County Welfare Department.

Each county prepared its own medical plan, Woods explained. The plans must conform to regulations set by the State Welfare Department.

He said most of the restrictions criticized by the two Bloomfield doctors have been in existence for some time.

Mickey Mouse Leads Symphony

By FRANCIS STILLEY

New York (AP)— Mickey Mouse took over Thursday as director of the symphony orchestra at the Radio City Music Hall.

Disney

And all of Mickey's celluloid friends — Donald Duck, Goofy, Pluto, Snow White, the Seven Dwarfs and Miss Tinker Bell — put on the show on the Music Hall's giant stage.

The pappy, Walt Disney, sat in the audience to see how well they had learned their dancing lessons.

He needn't have worried — any more than usual, anyway.

Mickey's directing was flawless, even though the musicians went right ahead and played the music as written. Donald threw several quacky tantrums, but if he hadn't he wouldn't be Donald. Goofy was . . . well, how else could he be?

The masked human beings who played Mickey, Donald, et al, performed admirably, and none of the generations of Disney fans will have any trouble recognizing the characters offscreen.

For Disney, a man with an imagination as restless as the saloon brawlers in a hilarious "Frontierland" sketch, it was a new milestone in his long and varied career of creating entertainment for the world.

Never before had he tackled a stage show.

But, as might be expected of the renowned Walt, it turns out to be a real dinger. The kids, mom and pop, and grandma and grandpa, ought to love it.

The Music Hall and Disney went to considerable expense on this new venture, which will run 6 or 7 weeks as the showplace's Easter program along with a Disney film, "Moon Pilot."

In fact, nobody knows yet how much it is going to cost, not even Disney. "I raised my eyebrows when some of the figures began to come in, "but everyone said to just keep on going. All I know is that it's 'way beyond the usual Music Hall budget."

Ed Serlin, public relations chief for the theater, said it is the biggest show ever put on in the house's 30-year history from a production standpoint.

Chicken Is Pot Roast News

Chicken goes glamorous when it's baked in a very special sauce of raisins and wine. Finely chopped raisins add their taste surprise to the richly flavored sauce accented with lemon, herbs and vegetables. First brown the roasting chicken in a hot oven, then lower the heat and add the sauce ingredients.

This is pot roasted chicken at its best. It's a joy to make since it takes practically no watching. Serve the beautifully browned and glazed chicken handsomely in a ring of colorful vegetables and let the man of the house do the carving honors at the table.

CHICKEN IN A GARDEN

1 (4 to 5-pound) roasting chicken
Salt and pepper
Powdered rosemary or dried dill
1 onion
2 stalks celery
1 lemon
2 tablespoons melted butter or oil
2-3 cup dark or golden raisins
1 (14-ounce) can chicken broth
1 cup white dinner wine or water
8 large whole fresh mushrooms (optional)
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Hot cooked vegetables

Season inside cavity of chicken with salt, pepper, rosemary or dill; insert onion and celery. Skewer openings and tie legs together to hold shape. Place breast-side up in large deep Dutch oven or roaster. Cut lemon in half and squeeze juice over chicken. Sprinkle with additional salt and pepper. Pour melted butter or oil over chicken. Bake uncovered, in hot overn (425 degrees F.) ½ hour or until chicken begins to color a rich golden brown. Finely chop 1-3 cup raisins. Add broth, wine, chopped raisins, mushrooms and the lemon halves to roasting pan. Lower heat to moderately hot (375 degrees F.). Cover pan and bake 1 hour longer. Remove and discard lemon halves. Continue baking until chicken is tender, about 1 to 1½ hours longer. Remove chicken to hot serving platter. Skim fat from pan gravy. Measure remaining liquid. If less than 2 cups, add chicken broth to make up measure. Blend in cornstarch mixed with a little cold water; add remaining whole raisins. Simmer until gravy is clear and thickened. Surround chicken with hot cooked garden vegetables such as potatoes, carrots, zucchini and onions. Spoon a little gravy over the chicken; serve remaining gravy separately. Makes about 6 to 8 servings.

Go Extra-Fancy With Pineapple

Although these filled cookies look real fancy they are actually quite simple to make. The dough is a rich cake-like shortbread which goes so well with the flavorful canned pineapple filling.

PINEAPPLE FANCIES

1 cup soft shortening (half butter or margarine)
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 eggs, beaten
5 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup dairy sour cream
Pineapple Filling

Cream together shortening, sugar and flavorings until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs until mixture is creamy and well-blended. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt together twice. Add to creamed mixture alternately with sour cream. Cover bowl and refrigerate several hours. When ready to bake cookies, roll dough out on lightly floured board to about ⅛ inch thickness. Work with only about ¼ of dough at a time. Cut dough into rounds with a scalloped edge cooky cutter. Place half of rounds on ungreased baking sheets. Place a small amount of Pineapple Filling in center of each and top with remaining rounds. Press edges together moistening surface of bottom cooky, if necessary, or use tines of a fork. With a sharp knife cut a cross in center of each cooky and lift edges back to reveal filling. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 8 to 10 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool thoroughly before storing. Makes about 5 dozen cookies (2½ inches diameter).

PINEAPPLE FILLING: Combine 1 (8½-ounce) can crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon butter, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon grated lemon peel, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, few grains salt and 1 tablespoon cornstarch in small saucepan. Stir to blend well. Cook, stirring until mixture thickens and becomes clear. Remove from heat and cool. tablespoons drained whole cranberry sauce or mincemeat into cooked filling.

From Our Recipe Files To Yours

Every good cook knows that the use of herbs sometimes is a tricky business. Too many herbs, or the wrong herb in the wrong place can turn a gourmet special into disaster.

Thyme is an exciting herb that fits into a variety of places. It can be used with broiled or stewed tomatoes; with French dressing to go over a leafy green and seafood salad, or with the buttered crumbs that top a tasty casserole.

It also gives glamour to tuna, especially in the receipe below.

SAVORY TUNA LOAF

3 Cans (7-oz. each) tuna fish
1½ cups soft fine bread crumbs
2 eggs
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
¼ teaspoon instant minced garlic
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ground thyme
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2-3 cup milk
Herbed Egg Sauce

Flake tuna fish. Add all remaining ingredients except Herbed Egg Sauce. Pack firmly in a greased 1½ quart loaf pan or casserole. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour or until browned over the top. Turn out onto a platter. Slice and serve with Herbed Egg Sauce. YIELD: 8 servings.

HERBED EGG SAUCE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon ground thyme
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Add milk, instant minced onion and parsley flakes. Stir and cook until of medium thickness, about 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and heat. Serve over Savory Tuna Loaf.

YIELD: 2 cups.

CORNMEAL MUFFINS

1¼ cups milk
½ cup cornmeal
1 egg
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons fat

Scald the milk and pour ¾ cup of it over the cornmeal. Beat the egg, to which add the cornmeal mixture and sugar. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together and add these slowly with the ½ cup of milk remaining. Lastly add the melted fat. Bake in greased muffin tins at 400° F for 30 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins, 2½ inches in diameter, 1½ inches deep.

CHILI CORN CASSEROLE

Hearty, good and easy to prepare is Chili Corn Casserole. Mix two 1 lb. cans chili con carne with beans with a 12 or 16 oz. can of drained whole kernel corn; heat. Pour into a casserole. Prepare batter for corn muffins using a mix; stir in some finely chopped or grated onion. Carefully pour batter evenly over chili. Bake in a hot oven about 20-25 minutes, until topping is done and lightly browned. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

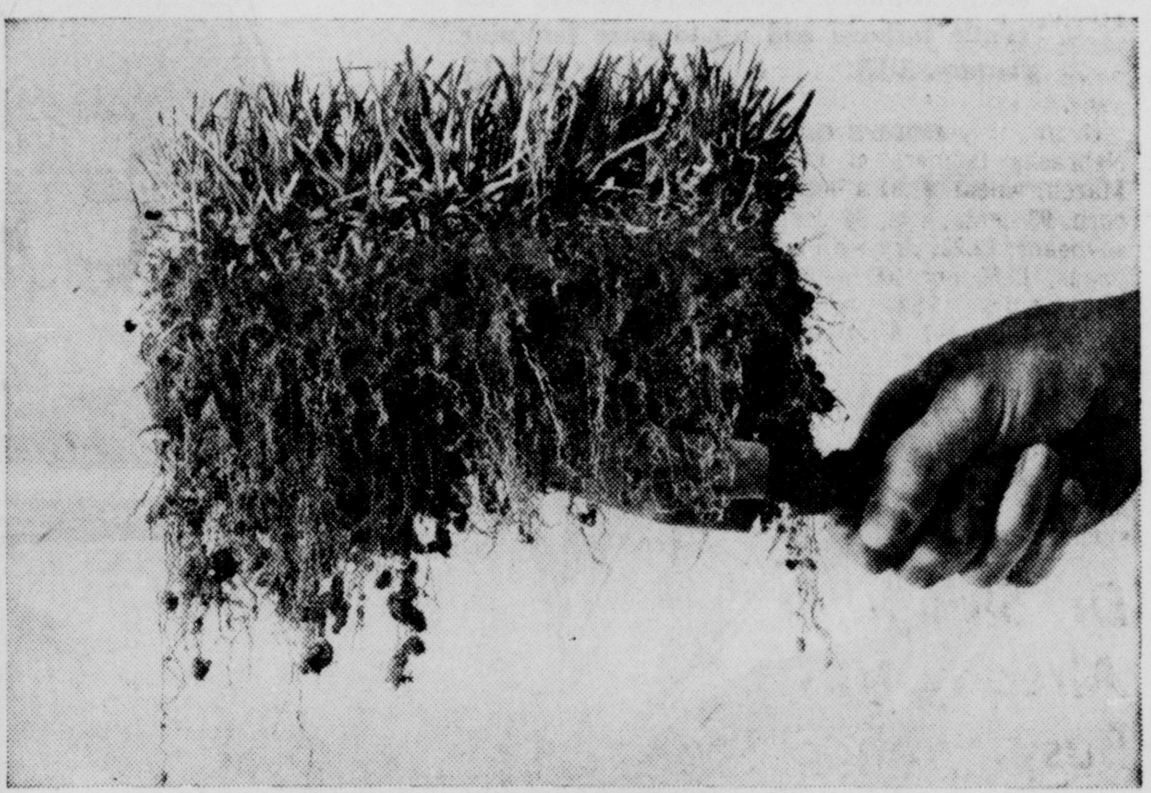
Why your lawn stays greener with the special Long-Feeding Nitrogen in new VitoGRO for Grass



This shows how a VitoGRO lawn with deep roots feeds on subsoil moisture to stay green all summer long.

Most sources of nitrogen give your lawn a quick green-up, then peter out. They don't last long enough to give the roots the nourishment they need for the important mid-season growth.

But new VitoGRO has special Long-Feeding Nitrogen plus other essential elements. Applied in the spring, VitoGRO gives your lawn the nutrients it needs for steady growth all summer.

The metered-release, special form of nutrients continues to feed for weeks. Gives grass a rich green and helps roots push deep enough to draw on subsoil moisture during hot dry weather.

The result is your lawn doesn't wear away or brown out, but with a normal amount of watering stays thick and lush the season through. In short, you get the kind of lawn you've always wanted.

Try new VitoGRO with special Long-Feeding Nitrogen on your lawn, and see for yourself the difference it makes.

Ag Price Index Is Below '61

Drop Is Blamed On Livestock Decline

The Nebraska all farm commodity index at mid-March stood at 256 points, 8 below March of 1961 and 3 below February, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said Thursday.

The drop from last year reflected the decline in livestock prices which more than offset the gains in prices for crops. The decline from the previous month resulted mainly from lower prices for hogs, cattle, milk and milk cows.

The all crops index at 186 was up 7 points from a year earlier and was 3 points above last month. At 283, the all livestock and livestock products index was down 14 points from a year ago and 4 points from February.

Nebraska farmers received an average of $16 per 100 pounds for hogs in mid-March, $1.20 less than a year earlier and 20 cents below last month. Cattle at $23 were 30 cents below the previous year and 50 cents under February. At $27.50 calves were 20 cents less than last year but remained unchanged from the month before.

Nebraska News

Sheep averaged $5.70, a half dollar below a year ago but 70 cents more than the previous month.

Lambs at $17.70 were $1.10 higher than in March of 1961 and 20 cents above the previous month.

Milk cows at $210 a head were unchanged from last year but were $5 below the month before.

Milk wholesaled by farmers averaged $4.05 per 100 pounds, a dime above the previous year but off a dime from the previous month.

At 10.7 cents per pound, chicken prices recorded a gain for the 5th consecutive month but remained 3.9 cents less than the average price received a year earlier. Eggs at 24.9 cents a dozen were down 3.9 cents from last year.

Grain prices received by Nebraska farmers at mid-March: wheat, $1.81 a bushel; corn, 93 cents; rye, 94 cents; soybeans, $2.22; dry edible beans, $5.50 per 100 pounds; sorghum, $1.54 per 100 pounds; potatoes, 95 cents per 100 pounds.

Oats and barley were unchanged from a month ago.

All baled hay averaged $19.60 per ton, $4.60 more than last year and the highest since May of 1957.

Dr. Slaughter Already Has Busy Routine

Norfolk (AP) — Most people would think Dr. Pauline Slaughter has her hands full already.

The tall, slender, serious physician not only has a large medical practive but is raising a family of 6 children, the eldest a college freshman. Her husband, also a physician, is dead.

But now Dr. Pauline has one more job: A seat on the Norfolk City Council. She will be the first woman ever to serve on that body.

A petition candidate, Dr. Pauline defeated the incumbent, cafe-owner Dan Mauck. Before the election she declared she "would be dictated to by no one but the voters."

In defeating Mauck by 28 votes, observers said, she drew heavy support from women voters.

Stakes High In Kennedy's Foreign Aid Request

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared free world security today "and the shape of the world of tomorrow" are the stakes in President Kennedy's $4.9-billion foreign aid request for next year.

With this testimony launching Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings on the new aid bill, Rusk went on to tell Senate questioners:

1. "There is considerable evidence of deep differences between Moscow and Peiping" as shown in Sino-Soviet arguments over doctrine, the Soviet cut-off of aid to Red China and other relations between the two.

Sees Rivalry

Rusk saw a rivalry between the communist giants over leadership in the Red Bloc and perhaps in communist foreign aid, with resulting confusion among communist parties abroad. But he did not say whether this would benefit the west.

2. Communist foreign aid totaled about $6.4 billion to 28 countries in 1954-61 and has been designed more to "create attention than to produce results." U.S. aid to the same countries in this period has totaled $12.17 billion, or about twice the communists' amount, and has bolstered the independence of these countries.

3. Other noncommunist industrialized nations have stepped up their aid encourageły to the point where it about matches U.S. assistance proportionately, and Washington is urging its western friends to do even more.

Opposes Seizure

4. The United States opposes foreign seizure of private investments without adequate compensation. Rusk expressed hope for a satisfactory outcome of negotiations with Brazil over seizure of a U.S.-owned telephone company there. He suggested the seized firm could use its compensation to invest elsewhere in Brazil.

But the secretary of state opposed, on grounds it would impair U.S. foreign relations, a proposal by Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., to put in the aid law a ban on aid to any country seizing an American investment without just compensation.

5. Some U.N. funds to which the United States contributes have been spent to send Soviet jeeps and medical help to Castro's Cuba. Rusk said this country opposed the jeep shipments but had to abide by the U.N. majority. He suggested some Russian funds may have been channeled through the U.N. to friends of the United States.

Britain's Main Tobacco Units Will Limit Ads

London (AP) — Britain's major tobacco combines Thursday announced a decision to limit TV cigarette advertising to times when children would not be likely to be watching. One said also that it was withdrawing 6,000 public vending machines to make cigarettes less accessible to children.

The companies together also announced they would take steps to remind traders that it is illegal to sell cigarettes to children under 16. The law is widely flouted.

Word of the industry's fight against juvenile smoking came in two statements — the first from the Carreras Rothmans group, the second a joint statement from four other tobacco manufacturers. Together they market most cigarettes sold in Britain.

The moves were a direct result of a report by a panel of the Royal College of Physicians last month claiming smoking was a cause of lung cancer and calling for government action to clamp down harder on sales of cigarettes to children.

Private Colleges Facing Critical Period—Maxson

Omaha (AP) — Privately-supported colleges are facing the most critical period in their history, said Hastings College President Theron B. Maxson in a talk before the Hastings Board of Trustees.

To meet the challenge of this period the board approved a long-range planning commission.

Mazson said "a long range plan could very well be classified as a survival kit."

He told the board Hastings College is in good position to meet the challenge of the future and is in the strongest financial position in history academically.

The college will open bids April 24 on a $450,000 dormitory to house 96 men and 46 women. This will be the 4th new building placed under construction at the college in the last 12 months.

The group of buildings represents an investment of almost $2 million dollars. Others include a student center, classroom-administration building and library.

Fred A. Seaton, chairman of the building dedication committee, said a week-long schedule has been set up for dedication of Bellevue House and Hurley-McDonald Hall next fall.

GOP 'Has Just Begun To Fight'

Omaha — Republican State Chairman Robert Denney Thursday told the Omaha Republican Women's Club that the GOP "has just begun to fight."

Denney said, "We must reaffirm our faith in individual initiative as the most creative force we have in society."

The Fairbury attorney declared that "our opposition's criticism that the Republican ideals are outdated or behind the times can be answered by saying that there is nothing really new or modern about an authoritarian form of government."

Denney said, he is "extremely concerned about the threat facing the local control of our educational system, and that the Kennedy administration has wasted no effort to bring American education under the thumb of Washington bureaucracy."

Masonic Temple Dedication Set

A new Masonic Temple will be dedicated at Tecumseh April 13, and an area meeting on Masonic education will be held at Tecumseh at the same time. Both events will be in charge of the Grand Lodge A.F.&A.M. of Nebraska.

The dedicatory address for the new temple will be given by Dr. Frank A. Court, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln and Grand Chaplain of Masons in Nebraska.

Nebraska News

The Tecumseh lodge, one of the oldest in Nebraska, received its charter Oct. 28, 1869. The temple has been in its present location since Feb. 22, 1887.

About 30 Masonic lodges from the area will participate in the ceremonies.

Young Marine Drummed-Out

Norfolk, Va. (AP) — A 20-year-old Marine was banished from the service Thursday in a rawly emotional ceremony that just recently came back into use after an almost two-decade eclipse.

The young Marine was given a bad conduct discharge in a military ritual known as a "drumming out" — a solemn ceremony designed to impress other servicemen of the gravity of disservice to their units.

The slender, crew-cut Nashville, Tenn., Marine suffered the public humiliation of being marched under guard from his quarters to the accompaniment of a drumming death march.

The drummed-out Marine's name was not made public.

Though the youth had technically already been discharged from the service after serving two years in a military prison for larceny and unauthorized leave, his reflex action to military commands remained.

"March the prisoner front and center," a Marine commanded and the youth cracked his heels together in a snappy military fashion.

An order of discharge, signed by Col. William C. Capehart, was read aloud by the sergeant major who then ordered "escort this man from the confines of this United States Navy reservation."

As a final measure of disgrace, the prisoner was escorted between long rows of Marines lined up at attention. As he approached each group, the Marines were ordered, "about face."

The prisoner saw only their backs as he walked the long line to the gate where he was given a brown paper bag containing his personal affects and sent away from the camp.

Why had the custom of drumming out been revived?

"Not vindictively, not to humiliate or degrade the individual," said Capehart, commanding office of the Marine barracks at the naval base. "It was instituted simply to impress on other Marines who might be headed toward a bad conduct discharge the seriousness and ultimate consequences of their actions."

Moon Riders Will Go Like This

Three North American Aviation engineers simulate astonauts during a showing in Downey, Calif., Thursday, of a mockup of the Apollo spacecraft intended to take the first Americans to the moon. Astronauts will be in this position during takeoff from the earth, landing on and takeoff from the moon, and re-entry into the earth's .atmosphere. At other times during their 5-day journey they'll be able to move around inside the capsule.

Education Dept. Post Given Skov

State Commissioner of Education Dr. Floyd A. Miller Thursday announced the appointment of Leonard Skov, superintendent of the Wilcox Consolidated School at Wilcox, to the staff of the State Department of Education.

Skov will join the staff at the close of this school year, Miller said.

A graduate of Riverdale High School, Skov received his BA and MA degrees from Nebraska State Teachers College at Kearney. He is currently studying for his doctorate at the University of Nebraska.

Skov served as principal of Red Cloud High School from 1956 to 1959, and has been superintendent at Wilcox since 1959.

League Considers Changing Charter Amendment

Two changes in the proposed "full-time mayor plan" charter amendment before a Nov. 16 vote are being considered by the League of Women Voters.

Neither change directly involves the mayor plan proposed by the League.

Repeal OK

Mrs. James H. Weber, League President, said Thursday the organization is agreeable to removing the proposed repeal section dealing with water revenue bonds.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson has advised the council that the repeal section may not be needed in view of an anticipated opinion from Chapman and Cutler, Chicago bond attorneys.

"If Mr. Nelson advises the council the section is no longer needed, we are perfectly agreeable to its removal," Mrs. Weber said.

However, she said League officials have made no decision on another section authorizing the City Council as a board of equalization to meet at any time for the purpose of equalizing assessments of any omitted or undervalued property and add the same to the tax rolls.

The Chamber of Commerce annexation and public utilities committee and Lincoln Chamber Industrial Development Corp. have passed resolutions objecting to this section and calling for a hearing on the charter amendment.

Mrs. Weber said the city attorney has advised this provision "is copied from the state law" under which the city derives this power and could be left out without any change in the council's present authority.

Mrs. Weber didn't anticipate the League would appear at the council meeting Monday, but said the matter would be discussed soon with the council.

The council has agreed to put the charter amendment on the Nov. 16 ballot.

Colin Jackson Sees Trouble For Africans

Colin Jackson, world-traveler and former professor of political science at the University of Nebraska, mixed hope with pessimism over the fate of Africa in a lecture at the university.

The commentator, just returned from Africa, outlined these observations:

Nigeria — "The timing for independence was good here and there is real hope of a lasting and responsible government."

The Congo — "The disaster here is one based on bad timing gone wrong. The work the United Nations has done is just short of a miracle.

What the Congo needs now is the development of good roads, better communication and health facilities, Jackson said.

Algeria —"This is the real tragedy. Two causes have ruined a fair land and the intolerance has already led to near disaster."

"I think the time when the secret army might have had a chance to control Algeria is over, and as long as Paris controls supplies to Algeria, and DeGaulle can control Paris, the chance for peace is good," he said.

South Africa — "Trouble is on the way. Racial intolerance is at a high peak and it seems to be getting worse.

Misko Offers To Clarify Investment Firm Action

State Banking Director Ralph Misko said Thursday night he would be "most happy" to discuss with "any individual" any questions they might have on matters concerning the Banking Department or decisions he has made as its director.

Misko made the statement when asked to comment on criticisms voiced earlier Thursday by Democratic gubernatorial candidate Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks concerning the Banking Department's reinstatement of certain mutual funds and investment funds last year.

Would Revoke

Mrs. Brooks said if she were elected governor she would revoke licenses of organizations handling such funds and investments just as her late husband had prohibited them during his administration.

She criticized licensing of firms whose transactions involve a so-called "front-end load" clause in which she said more than 50% of the sales commission is deducted the first year which she said imposes strict penalties of the investor desires to liquidate his investment before conclusion of the contract period.

"The State Banking Department must protect the public from these firms which do not give a decent return on the investment. The front-end load feature of a mutual fund and the open face certificate penalize the investor and this is unfair, inequitable and against the public interest," Mrs. Brooks charged.

Director Will Explain

Misko answered: "Any individual who has any questions whatsoever to ask about the Banking Department or would like for me to explain the reason for any decisions I have made since becoming director of banking, I would be most happy to discuss these matters with this individual in my office at any time in the presence of the press."

Gov. Frank Morrison, when asked for comment, stated that he has "every confidence in the good judgment of my director of banking," adding that "if any citizen has any question to ask about why certain decisions were made, I'm sure Mr. Misko will be glad to explain his actions in the presence of the press."

Crosby Substitute At Founders Day Talk For Weaver

Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) Thursday wired Jack Schuetz, secretary of GOP Founders Day, that flood control discussions in Washington will prevent him from addressing Founder's Day luncheon Saturday.

Weaver said he will attend a White House conference on flood control problems relative to the Elkhorn River basin Saturday morning, but he plans to be in Lincoln for the Founders Day banquet Saturday night.

Weaver said former Gov. Robert Crosby of Lincoln will substitute as luncheon speaker.

Nuclear Plant At Hallam To Start Sodium Heat Test

Hallam (AP) — By the end of next week, liquid sodium will flow through a maze of pipes at the Hallam nuclear power plant of Consumers Public Power District.

The flow of sodium, heated to 208 degrees fahrenheit, will test valve control and other mechanical functions. After a test period of about 4 weeks, reports will be forwarded to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Thereafter, CPPD will request permission to begin the wet critical testing stage, involving filling the pipes with sodium and inserting nuclear fuel in the reactor, a CPPD spokesman said.

Americans At Guantanamo Living In Showcase

Washington (AP) — The commander of the United States naval base in Cuba thinks the 5,400 Americans there are living in a showcase for the free world.

He notes that each day 3,000 people from across the "cactus curtain" come over to work in American homes at the Guantanamo Naval Base, at American jobs, then go back at night.

Therefore, says Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, it is important what they see of family life among the 2,400 dependents and 3,000 servicemen on the base. He made the comments several days ago to newsmen who visited Guantanamo aboard the nuclear carrier Enterprise during her 8-week shakedown cruise.

Good Picture

O'Donnell wants to be sure that the picture presented is good and that the Cubans know there is a "business-as-usual" atmosphere, without strain or tension in the tiny spot of freedom in a coldly hostile country.

All during the years of friendly relations between Cuba and the United States, a high, mesh wire fence stood around the perimeter of the naval base, primarily to mark the boundary. But when Fidel Castro's government turned Red, the fence became more than a symbol.

Last year, the Castro government began planting cactus along the Cuban side of the fence. The planting is about completed and the cactus is growing. Eventually it will tower higher than the wire fence.

A new type of soldier is showing up to guard the Cuban side of the fence.

O'Donnell says he has noticed an enormous improvement in the quality of the communist guards and their equipment within the last two months — apparently reflecting Soviet military assistance and advice. A new road running alongside the fence for its full length is about completed.

Until recent months, the communist guards were a little casual in manner, sloppily dressed. Now they are surly, occasionally toss rocks across the fence. U.S. Marines are under orders to ignore rock-throwing and other provocative incidents.

Stereotype

This business of the cactus curtain, a new road, a clearing of the strip along the boundary, may be, in part, merely a stereotype of the communist border system used in Europe, officials say. But it also is intended to prevent any crossing of the fence.

Actually, there is no refugee problem. The last refugees who crossed over into the naval base were Americans who had been living in Cuba and who fled in 1961.

Under terms of the long-standing treaty by which the United States uses the naval base, there is agreement which compels each side to deliver refugees from the law. There has been no interchange under this agreement since the breaking off of relations between the two countries.

NU Foreign Student Host Family Program To Begin

Plans for the expansion of contacts between foreign students at the University of Nebraska and Lincoln families are being drafted by the Host Family Program, a volunteer group headed by Mrs. Richard Gilbert, 1844 South 52nd Street.

The program, inaugurated on a modest basis several years ago, has arranged contacts which now permit approximately 100 foreign students to visit occasionally in the homes of their Lincoln host families.

Mrs. Olga Steele, assistant director of the university's foreign student advisory service with which the Host Family Program cooperates, said at least 60 new foreign students will be enrolling next fall.

"We are now making plans to serve these newcomers and to review the host family assignments made this year," Mrs. Gilbert said. "We will appreciate hearing from any Lincoln families who are interested."

She explained that the Program must assemble a list of potential host families now so that information can be disseminated and arrangements made for an informal social meeting of students and hosts early in the fall.

Mrs. Steele said that the university foreign student advisory service welcomes the assistance of the Host Family Program.

"One of our problems," she said, "is to find a reliable means of affording foreign students a continuing opportunity to visit in representative American homes.

"Our experience with the Host Family Program," she added, "has been good. We have found that the family visits have been as valuable to the host families as to the visiting students."

Supreme Court Must Decide On 2 Big Questions

The State Supreme Court will be faced with two major constitutional questions when it convenes May 7.

In one case the high tribunal must rule on the constitutionality of state laws requiring district court permission in annexation actions by first class cities, while in the other the court will be asked to rule on the constitutionality of Nebraska laws regulating non-public schools.

According to Supreme Court Clerk George H. Turner, both cases will be placed on the May docket.

New Neighbors, Travelers, Parties In Suburbia

Spring seems to have set in for a long spell and, rather than voicing complaints, residents of suburbia are reveling in the fact. As a result, news this morning is quite plentiful as well as varied.

PARK MANOR

Learned that Mr. and Mrs. L. David Penterman were host and hostess at their home last Saturday at a small, farewell canape party honoring Mrs. Penterman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Gaskill, who left Lincoln Monday for Mallard Point, Lake Ozark, Mo., where they will be summering.

Following the informal party, during which movies of the Pentermans' recent Hawaiian trip were shown, the guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. Ely Feistner and Mr. Penterman's brother and sister-in-law, Col. and Mrs. Don Penterman, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Penterman at the Legion Club.

he houseguest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Dean recently was Mrs. Dean's brother-in-law, J. Wilbur Haegan of Chula Vista, Calif. Mr. Haegan, who stopped in Lincoln while en route on a business trip, spent three days visiting with the Deans.

Learned that the dinner and overnight guest at the home of Maj. and Mrs. Forrest Ball Tuesday evening was Maj. Walter West of Barksdale Air Force Base, Barksdale, La. Maj. West returned to Louisana Wednesday morning.

And on entertaining on Wednesday afternoon was Mrs. Harold Evans. Sixteen guests were present for the dessert luncheon and informal afternoon, and co-hostesses was Mrs. J. F. Wilkinson.

Learned that Mrs. John Tidball was hostess on Thursday, March 29, to her Park Manor coffee group, but not at her home. The informal morning gathering was held in the newly-completed family room at the Orthopedic Hospital, and her guests included Mrs. Tom Dworak, Mrs. Ed Dosek, Mrs. Ed Smith, Mrs. Charles Sconyers, Mrs. Ted Thompson, Mrs. James Grant, Mrs. Robert Barlow, Mrs. Justin Tallman and Mrs. Robert Mudd.

Mrs. Tidball also was a hostess last Monday when she and other members of the Orthopedic Hospital's "Project Pals", Mrs. Gene Tallman and Mrs. Merlin James, were in charge of arrangements for an open house in the hospital's new family room. Guests were members of the hospital staff.

Park Manor newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. John Moore who became residents of the suburb on Friday, March 23, when they moved to 1635 Circle Drive. The Moores have three sons, Jim, who is eight and attends Randolph School; Tom, who is six and attends Holmes School; and Mark who is two. They formerly resided at 3718 C.

Leaving Park Manor and their 2001 Broadmoore Drive address on Saturday, March 24, were Mr. and Mrs. Blaine H. Johnson and their three sons, Dennis, 17, a student at Southeast High School; Brent, 9, who attends Mae Morley School; and Bradley, 3. The Johnsons' new address is in Kimberly Heights at 2542 So. 37th.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

Understand that there are new neighbors on Mahoney Drive—at 901 Mahoney, to be precise. Investigation revealed that Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ladner and their son, Jonathan, who will be two in July, are the new neighbors. They moved to Patrician Heights on Saturday, March 31, from their former address, 4647 High.

Also among the newcomers to Patrician Heights is a young lady by the name of Miss Coleen Lynelle Stewart, daughter of A.1C and Mrs. Aulden Stewart, who made her debut at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Thursday, March 29. Miss Coleen has an older brother, Brian, who will be two in May.

The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Rhamy, also Patrician Heights residents, and her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Stewart of Sylvester, W.Va.

Forty-five guests were invited to the buffet luncheon, held on Sunday, March 25, at the Emerald Methodist Church.

Dear Abby

Better Stick To The Deal

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been living with this fellow since 1946 Everyone thinks we are married, but we are not. We have a nice home and are respected in the community and I want to keep it that way. We would like to get married quietly now, but don't know how to do it without publicity (license in the paper, blood tests and so forth). I would appreciate any help you can give me. I can't sign my name, so please put this in the paper and I'll watch for it.

WANTS TO LIVE RIGHT

DEAR WANTS: Every state has its own laws with regard to marriage. In California you may go to a clergyman of your choice and be married quietly. The "records" will be filed away in the church and no publicity will follow. And you will be just as married as any two people can be.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who constantly corrects others in public about the pronunciation and use of words?

JUST CURIOUS

DEAR JUST: I think that person is showing HIS ignorance. It is infinitely more important to be KIND than correct.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old boy with a very active social life and a better than average school record. As far back as I can remember my mother has wanted me to take piano lessons. Until recently I have refused. Finally, we made a deal. If I took piano lessons, my mother would give me permission to smoke. I have started taking piano lessons and am bored. I now realize that the piano is not for me. I told my mother I would quit smoking if she let me quit the piano. She said NO! Please tell me how I can get out of this dizzy deal.

NO CHOPIN

DEAR NO CHOPIN: You don't have to be a Chopin to enjoy music. Almost everyone who goofed off when he had the chance to learn music has regretted it. I can't say much for the "deal" your mother made, but make the best of it or all that money for music lessons will go up in smoke.

DEAR ABBY: My heart goes out to the daughter-in-law who signed herself "IGNORED." I know how she feels because I am "ignored," also, Only I am a mother-in-law. My only child was married 15 years ago. They live only 22 miles from me, but I have grandchildren I have never seen. I don't weep and moan and feel sorry for myself. I take my troubles to the Lord. He keeps me strong and of good cheer.

Questions And Answers

Josephine Lowman

Q. "I would like to relieve my mind and wonder if you agree with me. It makes me mad when a person calls on the telephone and says, 'You know who this is, don't you?', or when you meet someone on the street whom you haven't seen for a long time and he or she says, 'Do you know who this is?' It is embarrassing and rude, too. What do you think?"

A. Unless this is done on the telephone, as a joke on a good friend, it is certainly thoughtless. It IS embarrassing to have someone call you and not be able to recognize the voice, and it is boring to struggle to do so for long. It is painful enough to try to place a face you have not seen for a long time. without the question, "Do you know who this is?"

Q. "What can I do to bleach the hair on the upper lip?"

A. Lemon juice is a mild bleach, but peroxide is perhaps more effective. Let this dry on the lip and then remove it with water. Repeat the process several times a week.

Q. "I am 13 years old, 5 feet, 3½ inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. I know I am overweight, but can't stick to a diet. I do get a lot of exercise. I will be 14 this coming month. How much should a 14-year-old girl my height weigh?"

A. About 115 pounds; a little more if you have a very large frame.

Q. "I have a problem which my mother tells me is very usual for girls of my age. Well, I don't know about all the others, but I do know that the extra 20 pounds I have acquired this last year have become a constant embarrassment to me. I am 5 feet and one-half inch tall and weigh 128 pounds. I am 15 years old, have a medium frame and do not get exercise. My question is, how can I lose weight all over, but particularly from my 'back porch'?"

A. You really are about 20 pounds overweight. You will have to count calories and also concentrate on hip exercises. Take these regularly every day. Also, why not become interested in some sport? It is too bad for a girl your age not to exercise and enjoy sports.

Q. I want to put weights in a suit jacket, but I've never done it before. I've read that the weights are covered before being attached to the garment. How is this done and how are they attached to the jacket? —Mrs. M.J.

A. Encase the weight in a square of your lining fabric. Cut a rectangle a little wider than the weight and twice as long as the width. Or, cut two small squares a bit larger than the weight all around. If one piece, fold in half and sew two side edges together with a whipping stitch, forming a pocket. Slide the weight inside and whip the opened edge closed. If two pieces, you'll have to whip-stitch the four sides closed. To atttach to the jacket, place the weights at side seams and wherever else is necessary, always on the top of the hem before sewing into the lining. Use an overhand stitch all around the weight pocket. Be sure to stitch only to the hem and not through to the jacekt part.

Q. "We are having a great argument at our house about whether alcohol is fattening. I read that it is not stored as fat, but is burned up by the body rapidly. What about this?"

A. Your information is correct in that alcohol is burned quickly and is not stored as fat. However, you did not go far enough in your thinking. Alcohol supplies calories which might otherwise come from fatty deposits.

Bridge

The Rebid By The Responder

B. Jay Becker

QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1♣	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♣	Pass	?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1.	♠KJ964	♥Q7	♦J9542	♣10
2.	♠AJ75	♥K8	♦KJ64	♣J93
3.	♠KQ82	♥954	♦K93	♣Q72
4.	♠AQ862	♥53	♦AKJ	♣974
5.	♠AK9643	♥J6	♦8	♣K953

1. Pass. You can't fight City Hall. Obviously, there is no game in this deal when you have a sub-par hand and partner shows minimum values by simply repeating his suit. Since there is at most only a part score involved, the question is where and at what level the part score lies.

If you were to bid two diamonds in an effort to find a better spot than two clubs, partner would be forced to bid again and this might lead to an even worse position. For example, partner might bid three clubs. The odds are that North has a six-card suit when he rebids two clubs and it is better to let well enough alone.

2. Three notrump. Since we have an opening bid facing an opening bid and a hand very suitable for notrump play, we contract directly for game. A two notrump bid would not be forcing and partner might pass.

A two diamond bid, while it would force partner to speak again, is rather pointless, since the ultimate goal is obviously three notrump. It would serve only to help the opponents in their defense.

3. Three clubs. Despite partner's signoff, there is still a chance for game. It may be that our club raise will stimulate him to undertake a three notrump contract. While the two club rebid by North puts his hand in the minimum class, even so, there are upper and lower levels for signoff bids. Of course, North is free to pass three clubs — and, in most cases, he will.

4. Two diamonds. It is rather unusual to bid a three-card suit, but there are times when it is necessary to improvise bids because the situation calls for them. No better bid than two diamonds is available. The hope is that partner will now be able to bid two notrump, which, of course, we would gladly raise to three.

5. Three spades. This is forcing and partner must bid again. If he raises to four, well and good. We pass. If he bids three notrump, we bid four clubs, since the hand is not suitable for notrump play. Partner can not pass at this point.

It is better to jump to three spades than four clubs. The opportunity to play for a ten-trick game contract should not be by-passed.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

"A distiller needs a castle, a cottage and a wheel-barrow," said Mr. Adam Kennedy Bergius, the export director of Wm. Teacher and Sons, Ltd., makers of Scotch whisky.

He said this Scottish saying meant—"He needs the castle when times are good; the cottage when times are bad; and the wheelbarrow to move his possessions back and forth."

There are about 90 Scotch distilleries scattered across the country. And in the brisk morning, we drove out across the snowy Highlands to see how they make what is now drunk by one out of 10 Americans.

(Scotch whisky is the biggest single money-making export of Great Britain.)

We stopped at Glendronach where a water-wheel runs the plant. From great piles of golden barley to the clear amber liquid that finally runs from the pot still.

It is a fine old, stone building lying in the winter Highlands with a stone living house—1771 is etched in the stone under the rooftop.

It looks like a simple process—though nothing can be really that simple.

"We take the barley here and we let water seep into it," said Mr. Bergius.

"After it is soaked, it is spread out here on these floors to sprout. The barley sprouts in about 11 days. The sprouting produces a condition that turns the starch to a kind of sugar."

The malted grain is then dried over peat fires—"That's what gives it the characteristic smoky flavor."

It is put into tubs with water and brewer's yeast.

"The result is a kind of beer which we then distill twice until we get Scotch whisky."

☆ ☆ ☆

Naturally, it is not that easy. Temperatures of water, time of sprouting, things like that make it a high art.

Mr. Bergius gave me a little booklet, "How to Make Scotch Whisky in Your Own Home" — you can get one yourself by writing him at 14 St. Enoch's Square, Glasgow, and get a better idea of it all.

"Of course the whole thing came from Ireland," said Mr. David Courtney, the Irish wine and spirit merchant to me aside. "For you'll find no one to dispute me that the Irish invented whisky. Uisequbagh, the water of life."

This is true. However, Scotch far outsells Irish. To the great gloom of Ireland, who dry their grain over coke and think peat (the flavoring agent of Scotch) destroys the true taste.

The making of Scotch started a long time ago. Records of King James IV in Inverness in 1506 refer to payments for aqua vite. The Teacher's firm is 132 years old itself.

"Coffey saw that you'd have to modify the stuff to a less potent thing, for the people were settling down to inside life. Why the Irish brew they made in those olden days was 50 per cent stronger than today. And most of it less than a month old."

☆ ☆ ☆

I asked Mr. Bergius how they got the same blend every time.

"That's the most important part. The directors taste it," he said.

Check Aids In Production Of Film

A $500 check given to the State Game Commission by the Nebraska Izaak Walton League has helped the commission on its way in producing a color film which will portray "The Nebraskaland Story."

Approximately 5,000 feet of the 16 milimeter color film depicting most of the cultural, scenic, recreational and historical attractions of the state has already been shot. A minimum cost of $6,000 is estimated to complete the 20-27½ minute film.

When finished the movie will be available without charge to businesses, educational and religious groups and sportsmens organizations throughout the state.

The $500 contribution by the League's 19 chapters is the first major contribution received by the Commission to date. Other contributions have been made by the Commonwealth Electric Co., Henkle and Joyce Hardware Co. and Abel Investment Co., all of Lincoln, and E. J. Fujan of Carlton.

FINAL BARRIER BLASTED IN GRAND ST. BERNARD TUNNEL

Saint Rhemy, Italy (AP) — Deep in the earth below a raging blizzard, Italian and Swiss workers Thursday blasted away the last rock barrier of a new tunnel through the Alps. Then, as impervious to the elements as tunnel traffic will be in winter and summer, they celebrated the breakthrough with bottles of wine.

Millions throughout Europe watched the blast on TV. The tunnel, when ready for traffic late next year, is expected to open a way for greater commerce and European political unity.

The 3.7-mile tunnel passes under Grand St. Bernard pass of the Mt. Blanc chain between this Italian resort and Bourg St. Pierre, Switzerland.

As the workmen set up for the blast the blizzard howled over the 8,000-foot Grand St. Bernard pass.

The tunnel will give an easy route through the Alps in winter when regular Alpine passes are snowbound.

Railroad tunnels pass through the Alps but motor vehicle traffic has had to use mountain passes and face the dangers of sudden blizzards.

X15 Soars Nearly 34 Miles

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (AP) — An X15 rocket plane streaked nearly 34 miles high Thursday in a test of an automatic control system being readied for upcoming Dynasoar and Apollo space craft.

U.S. space agency Pilot Neil Armstrong hit a speed of 2,830 miles an hour on the way up.

He was not trying for records on this flight, a preliminary to an attempt in the next few weeks to fly the manned rocket to its designed maximum altitude of 250,000 feet, or about 47 miles.

The new control system, designed to provide automatic flight both in space and in the atmosphere, was originally designed for the one-man Dynasoar space glider and the 3-man Apollo moon ship.

When one of the 3 X15s was rebuilt after an engine-test explosion, engineers decided to build in the new system and give it a year's-earlier trial.

Until now X15s have been controlled by an electronic brain—capable of correcting deviations from course faster than a man can think—which was effective only in the atmosphere.

In space the X15 is guided not by air pressure on its wing and tail surfaces, but by reaction against tiny jets of steam from its nose and wings.

We stopped at Glendronach where a water-wheel runs the plant. From great piles of golden barley to the clear amber liquid that finally runs from the pot still.

It is a fine old, stone building lying in the winter Highlands with a stone living house—1771 is etched in the stone under the rooftop.

It looks like a simple process—though nothing can be really that simple.

"We take the barley here and we let water seep into it," said Mr. Bergius.

"After it is soaked, it is spread out here on these floors to sprout. The barley sprouts in about 11 days. The sprouting produces a condition that turns the starch to a kind of sugar."

The malted grain is then dried over peat fires—"That's what gives it the characteristic smoky flavor."

It is put into tubs with water and brewer's yeast.

Naturally, it is not that easy. Temperatures of water, time of sprouting, things like that make it a high art.

Mr. Bergius gave me a little booklet, "How to Make Scotch Whisky in Your Own Home" — you can get one yourself by writing him at 14 St. Enoch's Square, Glasgow, and get a better idea of it all.

"Of course the whole thing came from Ireland," said Mr. David Courtney, the Irish wine and spirit merchant to me aside. "For you'll find no one to dispute me that the Irish invented whisky. Uisequbagh, the water of life."

This is true. However, Scotch far outsells Irish. To the great gloom of Ireland, who dry their grain over coke and think peat (the flavoring agent of Scotch) destroys the true taste.

The making of Scotch started a long time ago. Records of King James IV in Inverness in 1506 refer to payments for aqua vite. The Teacher's firm is 132 years old itself.

"Coffey saw that you'd have to modify the stuff to a less potent thing, for the people were settling down to inside life. Why the Irish brew they made in those olden days was 50 per cent stronger than today. And most of it less than a month old."

☆ ☆ ☆

I asked Mr. Bergius how they got the same blend every time.

"That's the most important part. The directors taste it," he said.

Check Aids In Production Of Film

A $500 check given to the State Game Commission by the Nebraska Izaak Walton League has helped the commission on its way in producing a color film which will portray "The Nebraskaland Story."

Approximately 5,000 feet of the 16 milimeter color film depicting most of the cultural, scenic, recreational and historical attractions of the state has already been shot. A minimum cost of $6,000 is estimated to complete the 20-27½ minute film.

When finished the movie will be available without charge to businesses, educational and religious groups, and sportsmens organizations throughout the state.

The $500 contribution by the League's 19 chapters is the first major contribution received by the Commission to date. Other contributions have been made by the Commonwealth Electric Co., Henkle and Joyce Hardware Co., and Abel Investment Co., all of Lincoln, and E. J. Fujan of Carlton.

FINAL BARRIER BLASTED IN GRAND ST. BERNARD TUNNEL

Saint Rhemy, Italy (AP) — Deep in the earth below a raging blizzard, Italian and Swiss workers Thursday blasted away the last rock barrier of a new tunnel through the Alps. Then, as impervious to the elements as tunnel traffic will be in winter and summer, they celebrated the breakthrough with bottles of wine.

Millions throughout Europe watched the blast on TV. The tunnel, when ready for traffic late next year, is expected to open a way for greater commerce and European political unity.

The 3.7-mile tunnel passes under Grand St. Bernard pass of the Mt. Blanc chain between this Italian resort and Bourg St. Pierre, Switzerland.

As the workmen set up for the blast the blizzard howled over the 8,000-foot Grand St. Bernard pass.

The tunnel will give an easy route through the Alps in winter when regular Alpine passes are snowbound.

Railroad tunnels pass through the Alps but motor vehicle traffic has had to use mountain passes and face the dangers of sudden blizzards.

X15 Soars Nearly 34 Miles

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (AP) — An X15 rocket plane streaked nearly 34 miles high Thursday in a test of an automatic control system being readied for upcoming Dynasoar and Apollo space craft.

U.S. space agency Pilot Neil Armstrong hit a speed of 2,830 miles an hour on the way up.

He was not trying for records on this flight, a preliminary to an attempt in the next few weeks to fly the manned rocket to its designed maximum altitude of 250,000 feet, or about 47 miles.

The new control system, designed to provide automatic flight both in space and in the atmosphere, was originally designed for the one-man Dynasoar space glider and the 3-man Apollo moon ship.

When one of the 3 X15s was rebuilt after an engine-test explosion, engineers decided to build in the new system and give it a year's-earlier trial.

Until now X15s have been controlled by an electronic brain—capable of correcting deviations from course faster than a man can think—which was effective only in the atmosphere.

In space the X15 is guided not by air pressure on its wing and tail surfaces, but by reaction against tiny jets of steam from its nose and wings.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. GARY PLAYER FIRES 67 IN MASTERS

—NE, SE HAVE CHANCE—

Links Track Rule Could End Today

Northeast and Southeast will be offered their best chance at a city high school track title Friday at the annual city meet at Nebraska Wesleyan's stadium.

Lincoln High has won every city meet since its start in 1954.

The Links are without a big track star for the first time in several years and Southeast may be able to match Lincoln High's depth.

All but Lincoln High have been in dual meet action.

Northeast lost its opener to Beatrice last week and Southeast defeated Pius X.

It is certain the 100-point victory margin of Lincoln High the past two years won't be repeated by any of the 3 entries this year.

Field events begin at 3 p.m. Friday. Running events will start around 3:45.

Three performers will defend city titles—Northeast's Chuck Squier in the 880, Southeast's Bruce Wright in the discus throw, and Lincoln High's Dennis Gordon, junior quarter-miler.

In Southeast's victorious opening, Wright was beaten in both weight events by junior teammate Bill Zersen. NE's Bruce Michaelson has the best pre-meet discus throw.

Lincoln High should keep its domination of the sprint events, carried on the last 3 years by Bobby Williams. Sprint veterans Ron Hamilton and Dave Collingham will get their stiffest competition from Southeast's Joe Carroll.

Exchange student Bartja Garvin, victorious in Northeast's dual, should duel Gordon in the 440.

Collingham also is a broad jumper and shot-putter but Southeast is strong in the field events with Wright, Zersen, pole vaulers Rick Allgood and Bill Rohrig, and jumper Tippy Dye.

Pius X and University High also will see weekend action.

Uni High hosts Class C Exeter Friday afternoon at NU while Pius will send a delegation to the Columbus Invitational Saturday.

Nebraska Wesleyan opened its baseball season with a pair of victories over Mankato Minn. State at University Place park Thursday afternoon.

The Plainsmen rallied to win both games in the last of the 7th inning.

Duane Eichorn's single with the bases full and one out drove across the winning runs in the opener. The hit broke up a tight pitching duel between Eichorn and John Anderson of the losers.

Eichorn, the senior right hander from Cheyenne, Wyoming allowed only 3 hits while striking out 8. Anderson wasn't as spectacular—just one whiff in the 7 innings—but he muffled the Wesleyan bats until the decisive 7th.

Wildness of pitchers Ron Wilkie and Don Duncan hurt the visitors in the opener. The pair allowed only 5 hits but gave up 12 bases on balls.

Pershing Features Big Men

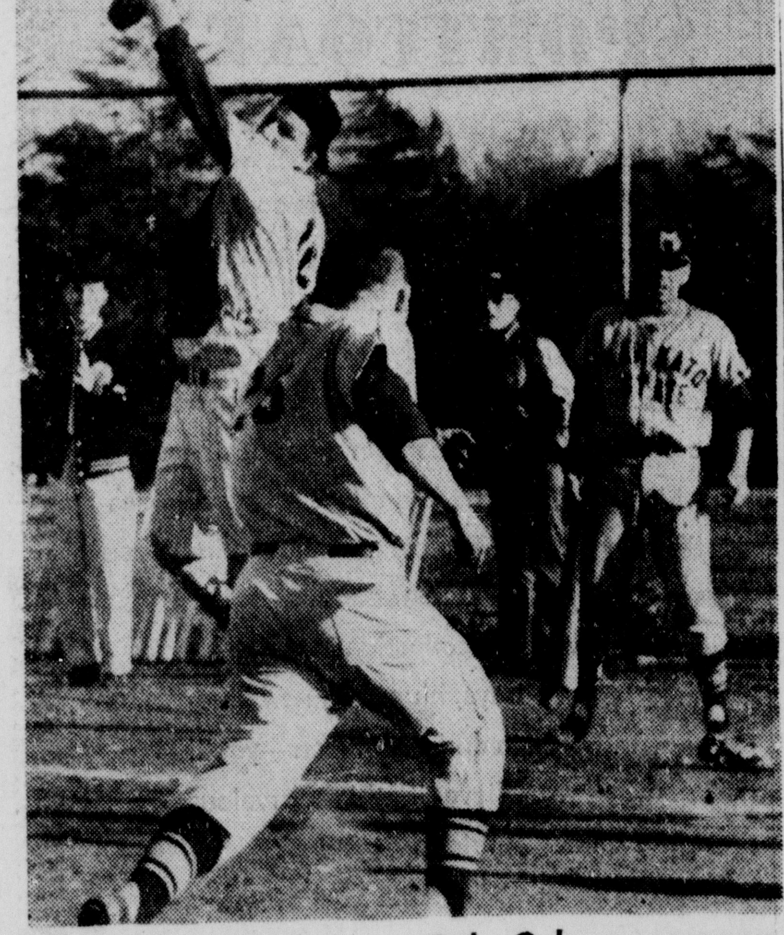
Two mean heavyweights vastly different with seconds—that's the dish being served up at Pershing Auditorium Tuesday night by pro rassling promoter Jack Pesek.

Tough Tony Borne will take on the wild man from Sahara, The Sheik, in the main event.

When it comes to seconds, The Sheik has the edge in attractiveness with his Princess. Borne is aided by dapper and wily, Leo The Lion Neman, his manager.

In the semifinal, Bobby Managoff will take on Ivan Gorky, while Rockey Hamilton and Thor Hagen will meet in the special event.

Opening the 8:30 p.m., ring show will be a one-fall match between Chief Little Eagle and Jack Frazier.



NOT ENOUGH . . . Bob Osborn scores for Mankato in second game as NWU's Ron Walker leaps for high throw.

HAPPY PLAYER . . . Gary Player tosses ball to caddy after getting birdie on No. 2 in Masters.

Stafford Goes Route As Yankees Win, 2-1

... DITMAR HURLS 7 SCORELESS FOR A'S

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (AP) — Right-hander Bill Stafford became the first New York Yankee pitcher to go the distance as the champions defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 Thursday.

Stafford allowed 11 hits, all singles, walked only one and fanned 6. His spring ERA is 1.69 in 41 innings.

He staggered a bit at the finish when the Phils made 4 hits and a run in the 9th. A base running boner by catcher Clay Dalrymple cost the Phils a chance to tie. He

The decision left the Yankees with a 17-8 record. The Phils have won 7 and lost 14.

Norm Siebern paced the A's 11 hit attack off 3 pitchers, driving in two runs with a home run in the 6th and a triple in the 7th. Jose Tartabull, rookie outfielder, had 3 hits for the winners.

Yanks Again!

It doesn't seem possible, but the 1962 baseball season is upon us.

Word from Washington is that a chap named Kennedy has been seen throwing a ball in the White House back yard. Ready for bull pen duty in case Jackie has a date with the hounds, Caroline has chicken pox or Teddy a campaign rally are two teammates, L.B.J. and Ted Sorenson.

While Mr. President warms up, the guessing game is in full swing—and doesn't it get tiresome picking the Yankees?

It's the same old story, New York—and I don't mean Casey Stengel's burrough buddies—to meet the National League champ in the World Series.

I'm tempted to put the kiss of death on Detroit, just for the sake of non-conformity, but the Yankees will have to combine a lot of "bad years" to slip off the top peg.

Ralph Houk has pitching, defense, power (well, a little anyway) and a first-rate bench. But if the Yankees do all take gas, Detroit should sneak in ahead of the pack.

After that it's wide open, except for the 10th spot which belongs to Kansas City on general principles.

My American League prediction: 1. New York, 2. Detroit, 3. Chicago, 4. Baltimore, 5. Cleveland, 6. Boston, 7. Minnesota, 8. Los Angeles, 9. Washington, 10. Kansas City.

Long Shot?

I'm going to flaunt the experts and vote for San Francisco in the newly-elongated National League.

He's crazy, you shout? Yeah, I know the Los Angeles Dodgers have the finest young players, speed, power, defense and all the sure-fire ingredients of a champion—plus Chavez Ravine, yet.

But picking the Dodgers is too easy, no fun. Like there's no fun in the AL, why not try for some in the NL? Besides, I've loved long shots ever since Suz-Den-Re ran wild at Ak-Sar-Ben.

I recall, also, that Walter Alston was supposed to win from his office last year, but the Dodgers still caused him grief.

Anyway, I'll go with the Giants, and pick Cincinnati and Pittsburgh for darkhorse roles, just in case LA or SF play kick the can. Okay, I'll throw in St. Louis for the die-hards.

No details are supplied, but here's my National League stab: 1. San Francisco, 2. Los Angeles, 3. Pittsburgh, 4. Cincinnati, 5. St. Louis, 6. Milwaukee, 7. New York (C'mon, Case, old boy!), Chicago, 9. Philadelphia, 10. Houston.

Read 'em and laugh, gang, and remember—before you rush to your bookie—my batting average is considerably lower than my golf game.

Defending Champ Is Early Leader By Two

... JULIUS BOROS NEXT AT 69

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—South Africa's Gary Player, the forgotten champion, picked up where he left off a year ago and fired a brilliant 5-under-par 67 Thursday for the first round in the Masters Golf Tournament.

Finishing in semi-darkness in a raw, cold drizzle, the black-suited little battler from Johannesburg nailed a birdie 3 on the final hole to go two strokes ahead of Julius (Big Moose) Boros, the grim Hungarian, who had checked in two hours earlier with a 69.

While the rain-coated crowd hugged the 18th green Player sent a booming drive some 260 yards down the middle, punched a 4-iron shot to within 8 feet of the cup and calmly sank the putt for the best round of the long and dreary day.

The tournament prime favorite, Arnold Palmer, also scored a birdie on the final hole by sinking an 18-foot putt for a 70. He was bracketed in 3rd place at this figure with Mike Souchak, the former Duke football star, and two darkhorses from Florida, Dave Ragan and Gardner Dickinson, Jr.

After Palmer rolled in his putt on the final hole, he turned to a spectator and quipped:

"Well, as they say, a day late and a dollar short."

It was on this hole last year that Palmer, a two-time winner of the championship, blew to a double bogey 6 when he had the title practically in his grasp. Player, who had finished earlier, won by a shot with 280.

Player's impressive first round drive Thursday, marked by only one bogey and by almost flawless shotmaking on every hole, astounded most of observers who had predicted he was a champion who could not possibly repeat.

The South African's usually fine putting touch had soured during the winter tour. He was an also-ran in 7 tournament appearances, failing to make the break on two occasions.

"I felt I was ready for this tournament, and Thursday's round proved it," Player commented in his precise British accent.

The goo-looking South African's only bad hole was at the 220-yard 4th, a par 3, where his drive bounded over the green and he chipped back 12 feet past, missing the putt.

Otherwise, he rifled his tee shots down the fairways and punched his approaches onto every green in a magnificent exhibition of winning golf. His best putts were a 12-footer at the 7th, a 10-footer at the 8th and a 15-footer at the 14th. He had 6 birdies.

One of the tournament hotshots, young Jack Nicklaus, dropped temporarily from front-line contention by shooting a 74.

"Nothing went right," the tow-haired 21-year-old from Columbus, Ohio, said bitterly. "I 3-putted too many holes. I couldn't drive.

Par for the 6,990-yard Augusta National Course is 36-36—72, and only a handful could break it in their first round try.

Five players were tied at 71. They included the reigning U.S. open champion, Gene Littler, former PGA champion, Bob Rosburg, giant George Bayer, Don January, and Billy Maxwell.

NU Baseballers Open Loop Play

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska's baseball team, which opened the 1962 season on a clean-sweep note last week, will try to open the Big 8 campaign in similar fashion here this afternoon and Saturday.

Coach Tony Sharpe's Cornhuskers host the Kansas Jayhawks in a twin-dip today and wind up the series Saturday with a singleton. Both sessions start at 1:30 p.m.

Sharpe has awarded doubleheader starting assignments to junior Ron Havekost of Hooper and sophomore Keith Sieck of Lincoln today.

Havekost will fling at the Jayhawks in the opener, while Sieck is slated to hurl the afternoon-cap.

Sieck got off to a rousing start at Tulsa last week as the Huskers swept their opening 3-game series. He held the Hurricanes to a pair of hits and one run during his initial 6-inning chore in NU flannels.

Sharpe is undecided about Saturday's pitching assignment, but it will be either Ernie Bonistall of Ed Johnson.

The Huskers will take a .287 team batting average into the KU series, with 4 regulars swatting at .400 or better.

Sharpe may do some infield juggling to shore up the NU defense, but his plans weren't settled Thursday afternoon.

Two sophomores — John Morris of McCook and Ron Douglas of Crete — came through at shortstop during the southern swing, which saw the Husker infield pull off 4 double plays against Tulsa.

The likely Nebraska batting order, for the first game with averages: Dale Anderson, 3b (.444); Don Schindel, cf (.583); Steve Smith, lf (.538); Dick Becher, lb (.111); Don Purcell, c (.125); Tom Ernst, rf (.400); Bill Redmond, 2b (.200); John Morris, ss (.000) and Ron Havekost, p (.000).

Celtics Win NBA Playoff, 109-107

. . . JONES HITS WINNING BASKET

Boston (AP) — Sam Jones' jump shot with two seconds left pulled the Boston Celtics to a 109-107 victory over Philadelphia Thursday night, capping a dramatic comeback which produced the 6th playoff title for Boston.

The play came immediately following a 3-point maneuver by huge Wilt Chamberlain which tied the score.

With the string run out in the best-of-7 series, the Warriors had time only for one last play but Sam Jones — the finishing hero — intercepted and held on as the buzzer sounded.

The Celtics now go after their 5th straight National Basketball Association playoff championship against Los Angeles opening here Saturday afternoon.

Pressure-proof veteran Bob Cousy and agile Bill Russell shared stardom in the late Celtics surge but Boston still needed Jones to settle it. Sam paced the victors with 28 points, Tom Heinsohn had 25 and Cousy 21, 9 of them in the stretch.

In the best played, tensest game of the set, it appeared for a while the Warriors' solid team play would carry them to victory. Philadelphia got 32 points from sensational jump-shooting rookie Tom Meschery and while Chamberlain was limited to 22 points by Russell he did an outdo job rebounding, blocking shots and setting up plays.

Boston took a 34-23 first quarter lead and then turned ice cold and the Warriors pulled ahead 56-52 at the half. Meschery had scored 20 points, hitting on 8 of 11 tries.

After the Celtics pulled to a 59-all deadlock near the start of the 3rd quarter, the visitors twice took 9 point leads and the Celtics were in deep foul trouble. It looked as if a dynasty had ended.

More Sports On Page 26

Jim Loscutoff drew his 6th foul at 10:45 of the 3rd period and Tom Sanders left only seconds later with the maximum of fouls.

Then Frank Ramsey came off the bench, scoring 4 quick points which put the Celtics ahead to stay 86-84.

With Russell staging an incredible exhibition of batting down shots and passes, and Cousy hitting long sets when not making plays for his teammates Boston surged in front by 102-91.

But battling Philadelphia wouldn't say die. Tom Gola, who wasn't even supposed to play because of a foot injury and who scored 16 vital points, helped close the gap.

Boston led 105-102 when Chamberlain was called for goal tending and Heinsohn was credited with a basket. But Chamberlain hit on two free throws and then his 3 pointer gave them a 107-107 tie.

AAU Swimmers Set Some New Records

Time Draws Near For Garden Fight

. . . PENDER, DOWNES READY

Boston, (AP) — Champion Terry Downes and challenger Paul Pender match right hands and tender noses for high stakes in their middleweight title fight at Boston Garden Saturday night.

Downes, 25-year-old brash, bullish Briton, and his 31 year old opponent were undergoing the tensions of the watchful waiting period between the end of heavy drills and actual combat Thursday.

The scheduled 15 round bout will be televised nationally (ABC-TV, 9 p.m., CST) and will be broadcast by the British Broadcasting Company back to England. This is the pair's 3rd and rubber match.

Pender, the onetime fireman from Brookline, Mass., is an 8-5 favorite locally, 7-5 in New York and 5-2 in Downes' London bookmaking shops and those of his competitors.

Downes is stronger than ever and has youth in his corner according to his followers. His immediate incentive is retaining the crown he lifted from Pender last July.

Visitors to Pender's isolated training grounds say he's never appeared more dedicated and his 110 sparring rounds is a personal high.

Pender admits to a double spur: regain the crown and erase the unjust label of quitter he says he's had to live with since he retired after 9 rounds in the London meeting.

Beyond these stakes, there is a matter of at least a quarter of a million dollars awaiting the winner in title-clearing bouts with NBA middleweight king Gene Fullmer.

Now observers feel Pender has honed his right cross with the same care he's devoted to his left. Downes has a history of cathing left hands but Pender can give him more trouble with lightning combinations.

Reports indicate Downes has learned to land his right faster and with more authority than ever. Pender previously prided himself on an ability to pick off the Downes rights.

Paul still doesn't think his opponent is a bit different than in the two earlier encounters. If Downes can surprise Pender it will be in the manner of employing his right.

Both men are cut often, Downes to the extent he's known as a bleeder. A 14-stitch cut on his nose stopped the first fight in their series. Pender still sports a gash across his nose sustained early in his current training program.

Sam Burns, Downes' manager, has obtained permission from the Massachusetts Boxing Commission to have his own doctor to help in deciding the question of serious cuts.

Race Scribe Dies

New York (AP)—Tom O'Reilly, horse racing columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, died Thursday of cancer at the age of 56. He had been hospitalized since January.

STEVENS WOULD ACCEPT SOONER CAGE POSITION

Augusta, Ga. (AP) — South Carolina basketball coach Bob Stevens said Thursday he would accept a similar job at Oklahoma if a definite proposal were issued.

He said he had talked with members of the University of Oklahoma Athletic council and athletic director Bud Wilkinson but added that "They didn't make an offer."

Oklahoma is looking for a replacement for Doyle Parrack who resigned. Stevens was here for the Masters Golf tournament.

Stevens, South Carolina coach the past 3 years, said he understood Wilkinson and the athletic council had recommended him and the next move was up to the OU board of regents.

However, the regents met briefly at Tulsa, Okla. Thursday without bringing up the subject.

"I can say I was impressed both with the University and the conditions which were painted to me." said the 38-year-old Stevens, referring to his conference at Norman, Okla. a week ago.

Stevens was one of at least 7 candidates interviewed.

Prime Repeater

Greenville, Pa. (AP) — Fred Prime of Wayne State is the only repeater on the 1961-62 All-League team of the Presidents Athletic Conference.

PODOLOFF SAYS 'MAY RETIRE'

Philadelphia (AP) — Maurice Podoloff, president of the National Basketball Association since 1946, said retirement is "Within the bounds of possibility" but "I've made no decision."

Podoloff, here for the Philadelphia-Boston playoff game was asked about reports he was considering retirement with the presidency ticketed for Eddie Gottlieb, owner of the Warriors who is rumored considering selling the club to a San Francisco group.

"Last year the board of governors elected me through the 1964-65 season," said Podoloff. "I have no present intention of retiring but you never can tell what will happen. I'm beyond 65.

"I think Eddie would be considered a very logical successor. Then again you can't tell what he would do."

Doane Girl Is Drake Candidate

Miss Fahrnbruch ... Candidate

Crete, Nebraska — Miss Ann Fahrnbruch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fahrnbruch, Crete, will be Doane College's representative in the annual Drake Relays Queen contest.

Ann was chosen this week by a faculty committee after a special interview and an evaluation of her qualifications. Criteria for selection were: beauty, intelligence, maturity, personality, and poise.

A committee at Des Moines will choose the queen from photos and questionnaire data submitted by competing colleges.

Miss Fahrnbruch transferred to Doane as a junior from Valparaiso University in Indiana. At the out-of-state school she was a member of Alpha Lamba Delta, honorary scholastic fraternity, and Gamma Phi social sorority.

She was active in the Student Education Association and a writer on the university newspaper staff.

At Crete, the contestant plays the organ for the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, and is a member of the student chapter of the American Guide of Organists. She is assistant editor of XANADU, a creative writing publication, and is pledged to Omega Psi Theta social sorority.

Scribner Coach To Doane

Crete, Nebraska — Stanley Hale, a social studies teacher and basketball coach at Scribner, Nebraska, has been hired as admissions counselor at Doane College, according to President Donald M. Typer.

Hale

He will begin his new position in June when school is dismissed. Hale will work under William McMurry, director of admissions, traveling in Nebraska, Kansas, and Colorado.

A native of Tekamah, Nebraska, the new admissions employee is married to the former Kaye Wilson of Geneva. The couple has one daughter, Michelle, age 10 months.

Hale is familiar with Doane's program. He began his undergraduate work in Crete in 1949. For four years he served in the Coast Guard.

During his years at Doane College he majored in social science and was a letterman in three major sports. He also was active in various student government organizations, and won a third place in the Dawes oratorical contest. He climaxed his college career as president of Doane's student body.

BUMS TO BE YANKS SERIES FOES?

... SOMEONE WILL HAVE TO PLAY THEM IN OCTOBER

By STEVE SNIDER

New York (UPI) — The New York Yankees will play in the World Series next October.

Tradition demands the National League provide an opponent but the only way you can pick one out of the pack is with a hunch, tea leaves or outright provincialism. So, on a hunch, it'll be the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Yankees are loaded and the only thing that can send the world champs crashing is a run of bad luck—a happenstance that would bring ringing cheers from virtually every quarter of the baseball map.

But in the National League, the crystal ball is as cloudy as an 8-ball. Any one of the 5 top clubs could come up with the big prize out of the grab bag.

Herewith, minus guarantees, is one man's opinion:

American League—1) New York Yankees, 2) Detroit Tigers, 3) Baltimore Orioles, 4) Cleveland Indians, 5) Boston Red Sox, 6) Chicago White Sox, 7) Minnesota Twins, 8) Los Angeles Angels, 9) Washington Senators, 10) Kansas City Athletics.

National League — 1) Los Angeles Dodgers, 2) St. Louis Cardinals, 3) San Francisco Giants, 4) Cincinnati Reds, 5) Milwaukee Braves, 6) Chicago Cubs, 7) Pittsburgh Pirates, 8) New York Mets, 9) Philadelphia Phillies, 10) Houston Colts.

The Dodgers, despite a 10-game losing streak last August, wound up only 4 games off Cincinnati's winning pace and the feeling is they'll cash in on their own youth movement as well as happier surroundings in a new park designed for baseball.

It'll mean manager Walt Alston has to push all the right buttons on his platoon system but the pitching is there in Johnny Podres, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, the speed and defense are there and the power may come from others than the veteran Duke Snider.

The temptation is strong to take a flier on the Cardinals, who played the NL's best ball after Johnny Keane took over from Solly Hemus as manager. A comeback by pitcher Ernie Broglio and the addition of Minnie Minoso's bat could put them over.

The Braves have a nifty infield, only one veteran outfielder (Hank Aaron) and even top-drawer pitching from the veterans couldn't pull them higher than 4th last year. The Cubs could be the best of the rest.

The Yankees are beginning to run into bad luck with Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford currently ailing. If it spreads, look out. Roger Maris, Elston Howard, Luis Arroyo and most of the others are coming off red hot 1961 campaigns and maybe lightning won't strike twice.

The Tigers expect last year's top infield rookies — Jake Wood and Steve Boros — to improve and maybe they will. There's good power elsewhere provided by Norm Cash, Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline but shortstop and the bullpen need improving.

Baltimore has Jim Gentile and maybe new power from rookie John Powell but has only part-time service from soldiers Steve Barber and Ron Hansen, who helped plenty last year.

The Indians gave up Vic Power, Johnny Temple and Jim Piersall but look skimpy only in the outfield under a new set-up.

The youthful Red Sox could climb over the White Sox, who are turning to youth but gave up power (Minoso and Roy Sievers) in the process.

The battle for the cellar again will be fun—for those that don't make it.

Delivers All-Car Average of 22.70 Miles Per Gallon

This USAC-certified mileage record was scored by regular stock cars in the 1962 Mobil Economy Run—world's greatest official test of gasoline mileage economy. All of these cars used exclusively either Mobil Premium or Mobil Regular gasoline with the highest Megatane Ratings of any leading gasolines.

Now—Mobil® gasolines have been tested in almost every make of American car. This year 46 cars were entered in the Mobil Economy Run; they traveled 2,497 miles at normal speed from Los Angeles to Detroit—across deserts, over mountains, through crowded city streets . . . delivered convincing records of the mileage-economy potential of Megatane-Rated Mobil!

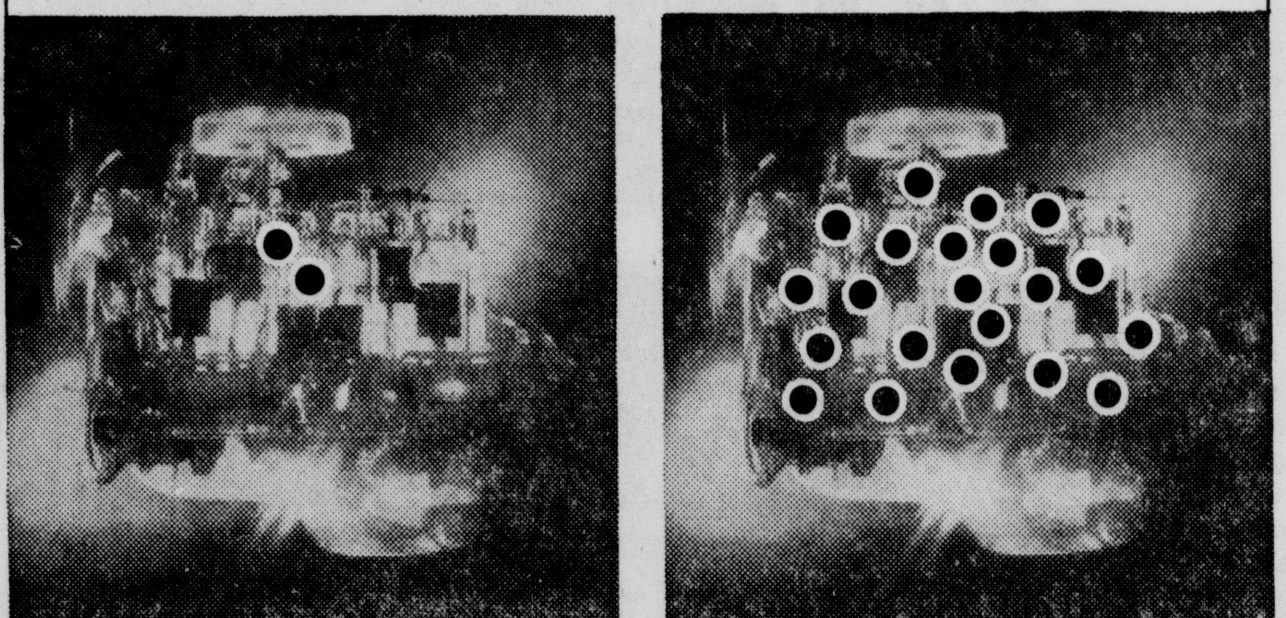
For Mileage Economy and Top Performance Get Mobil with the Highest Megatane Ratings of Any Leading Gasolines!

DON'T MAKE THE OCTANE MISTAKE!



Octane Rating measures only 2 of your motor's needs

Megatane Rating measures 21 of your motor's needs

The Higher the Megatane Rating
the Better Your Motor Will Run!

Octane rating measures only 2 of the qualities your car needs in a gasoline . . . 2 very important qualities—both dealing with anti-knock. The result: many people make the Octane Mistake! They consider only Octane ratings when buying gasoline and overlook many other important qualities made possible by brilliant scientific advances. Qualities that can truly give you a cleaner motor, more mileage and power, longer life and fewer repair bills.

That's why Mobil's engineers measure and express gasoline quality in a rating system called the Megatane System which enables you to judge not just Octane qualities, but the total performance of your gasoline. Megatane includes Octane, of course, but goes far beyond Octane to measure not just 2, but 21, of your motor's needs.

Whether your car is designed to run on Regular or Premium—the best gasoline for your car is Megatane-Rated Mobil!

How do you know before you buy? Mobil's Megatane Rating System tells you. While no gasoline has a perfect Megatane Rating of 21, Mobil Premium at 19† rates highest of any leading Premium. Mobil Regular at 16† rates higher than any leading Regular gasoline. Grade for grade, Mobil gives you more of the important qualities that combine to give outstanding performance and mileage economy.

At first, this Mobil difference may not be apparent to you, but five, ten, twenty thousand miles from now your motor will know the difference . . . in more mileage, in less loss of power, and in longer prime of life.

So, save your motor as well as your pocketbook! Get Mobil with the highest Megatane Ratings of any leading gasolines!

†Add 1 extra rating point for de-icer where use depends on climatic conditions.

BEING 'ACE' IS NEW FEELING FOR CRAIG

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — Being ranked as the ace of the pitching staff is a brand new and exciting experience for Roger Craig, who undoubtedly will pitch the season's opener for the New York Mets next Tuesday.

Perhaps even more than becoming a 20-game winner, the tall, soft-spoken right-hander wants to be a respected pitcher. He doesn't think he was respected during all the years he pitched for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Twice, in 1955 and 1959, he was an important factor in the Dodgers' pennants after being recalled from the minor leagues in mid-season. But in the year following each championship, he said he still was made to feel like a 6th finger.

Craig, a pleasant fellow who is grateful for even the little things, harbors no grudge against the Dodgers. But he does believe Walter Alston, the manager, was not a particular admirer of his.

"Alston likes hard throwing guys like Drysdale (Don), Koufax (Sandy), Williams (Stan) and Sherry (Larry)," Craig said. "I'm not a hard thrower. He never gave me any confidence. Any confidence I ever had came from me, not from the manager.

"Whenever he'd start me, I knew I had to be phenomenal to stay in the box. Others may give up twice as many runs, but he would leave them in there."

Craig said his greatest disappointment came during spring training of 1960, when he learned that Alston was planning to drop him from the starting staff.

"I had helped the club win the pennant and I was sure I'd be a starter," Craig said. "I went to Alston and told him I thought I deserved a chance to start. He said he planned to go with 3 starting pitchers — Drysdale, Podres and Sherry — for a while. I knew I had pitched as well as any of them in the latter part of the '59 season and I felt hurt."

Craig finally got his chance, in the Dodgers' 14th game. He won it with a 4-hitter. In his next start, Roger was involved in a base-line collision and was out of action for 5 weeks with a broken collarbone. He never regained his former effectiveness.

"I'm not out to prove that Alston was wrong. I'm just out to prove that I can be a winner if I get the chance."

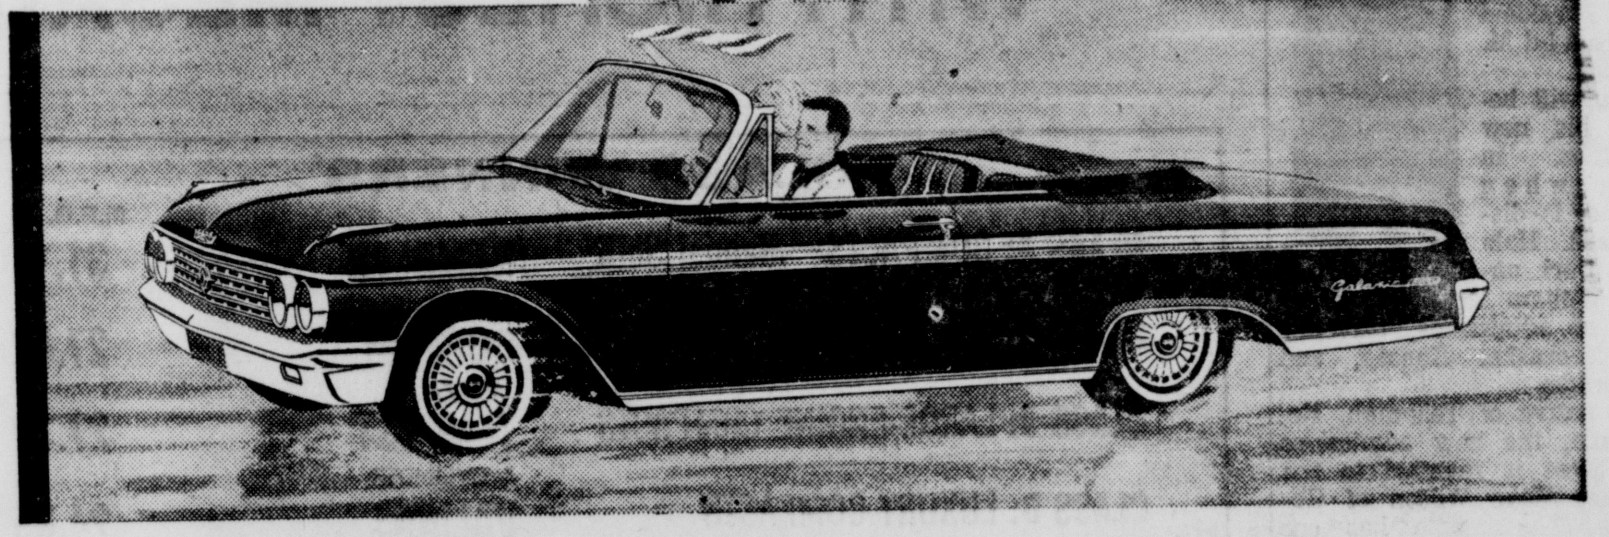
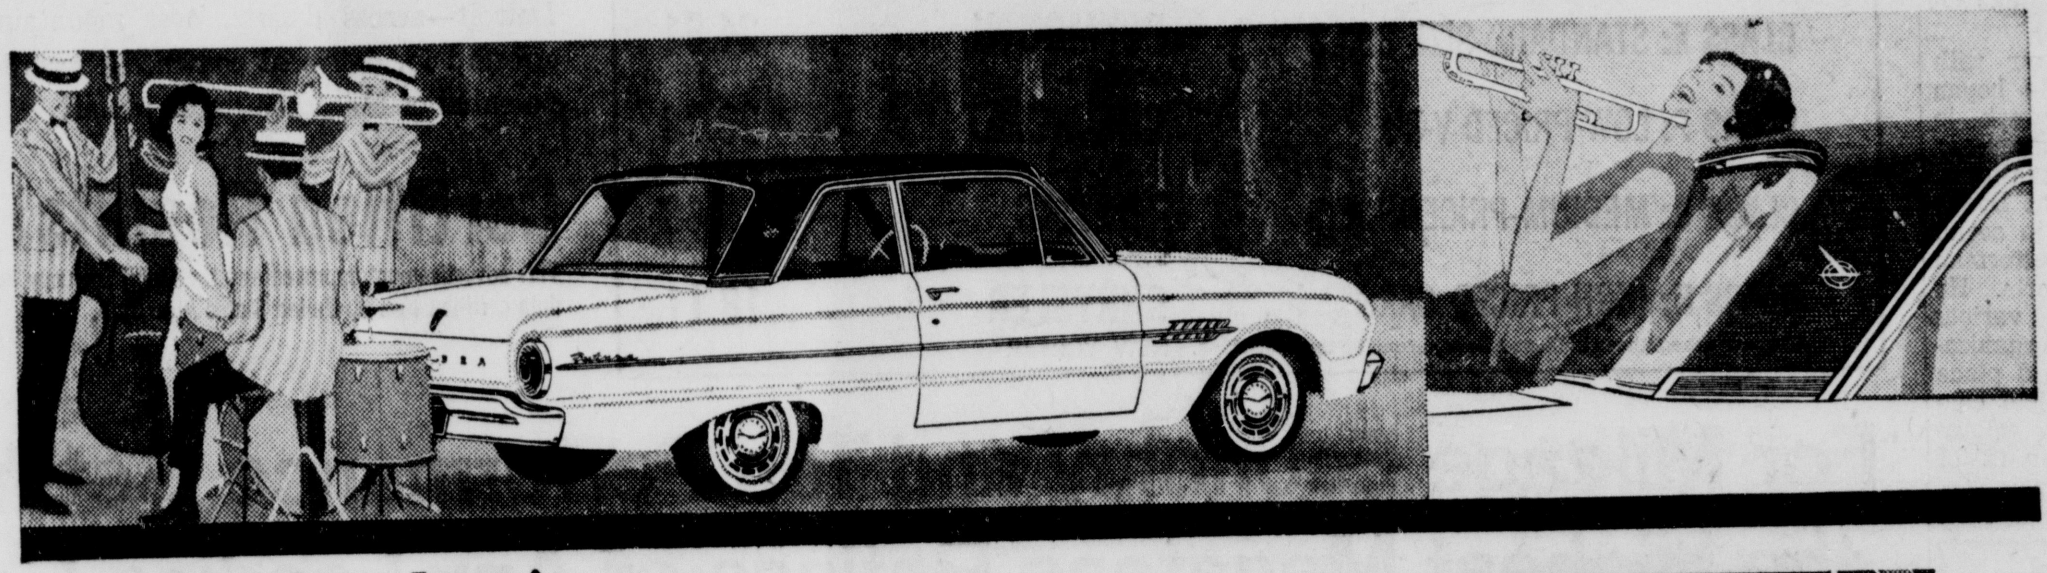
Live it up!

Presenting the cars for the lively life: 3 New Lively Ones from Ford!



New Galaxie 500/XL!

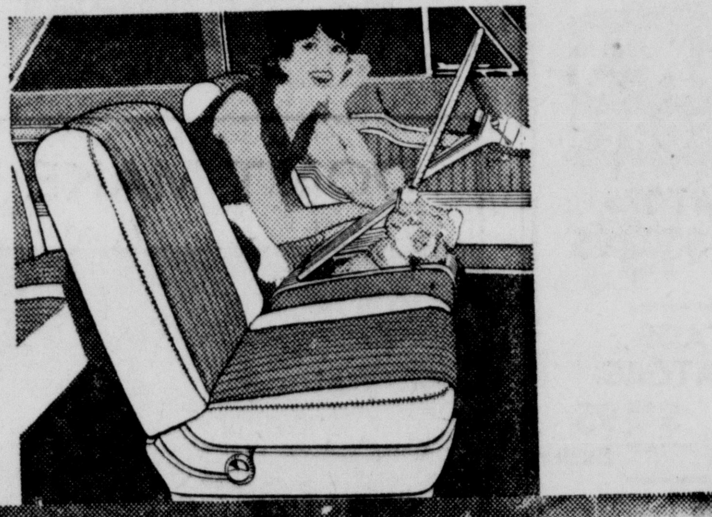
Start this one and you really start something. Available with Thunderbird V-8 power up to 405 hp (coupled to a 4-speed stick shift), the XL will outperform America's most expensive cars. Standard features include all-new bucket seats with a Thunderbird-style console in between. Among the other items is the most sophisticated automatic transmission of them all—Cruise-O-Matic. Being a Galaxie, the XL needs service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles. That means more time for the lively life. Hardtop or convertible. Definitely not for pedestrian tastes!



New Falcon Sports Futura!

Here's a hot new number from the compact leader. The tempo starts fast with foam-padded bucket seats and a handy console in between . . . hits a new high note with a stylish new Thunderbird roof (vinyl-covered if you want it) . . . then goes into the lively melody of an optional 170 Special Six engine. Economy with a flair is the Sports Futura idea: more gas savings . . . 6,000 miles between oil changes, after initial 1,000-mile change . . . and a price that's below many standard compacts.

Ford



New Fairlane 500 Sports Coupe!

Don't flirt with this one unless you mean it. Ford's new Fairlane has foam-padded bucket seats with a console in between . . . and an all-new optional "260" Challenger V-8 that packs 164 hp. Fairlane's room, ride and performance are big-car in every way. But no other "big car" can compete in Fairlane's price league: with all its big-car features, this new fine car costs less than many compacts. Like Galaxie, Fairlane stops for service only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

REDS HAVE INFILTRATED BRITISH CIVIL SERVICE, INVESTIGATORS REPORT

By HAL R. COOPER

London (AP) — An official report published Thursday said communists have heavily infiltrated the Britiesh Civil Service, bringing about a state of affairs "most dangerous to security."

This finding was the highlight of a 22,000-word document produced by a 5-man committee appointed to investigate security procedures, under the chairmanship of Lord Radcliffe.

The report was submitted to the government last Nov. 21 but — as Prime Minister Macmillan informed the House of Commons Thursday afternoon — was held up for extensive blue-penciling.

Macmillan said the version now made public "contains as much of the report as, in the government's judgment, can safely be published." He added that all recommendations by the committee were adopted by the government and being put into effect as rapidly as possible.

The committee said it found in a survey of government civil services unions that communists "appear to have achieved a higher degree of penetration there than in almost any other sector of the trade union movement." It added:

"No evidence has been brought to our knowledge that communist union officers have been detected in any form of espionage.

"Nevertheless, we regard this presumably deliberate massing of communist effort in the civil service unions as most dangerous to security.

"Departments should have the right, in respect of establishments of staff on secret work, to deny access or to refuse to negotiate with trade union officials believed to be communists."

The committee said a great many government departments did not appear to take the threat of communist spying seriously.

"Even within those departments which are regularly handling a great deal of highly secret information," the report commented, "we found more than one in which the level of interest in or attention to security seemed to have been low and the subject itself treated as one which in practice ranked lower in importance than most others."

The committee said British security officials should proceed on the assumption that communist spies are "steadily at work in this country collecting information for intelligence purposes and trying to break through our screen of protective security."

NEW PURGE HINTED IN COMMUNIST CHINA

Tokyo (AP) — In terms that suggested a new purge may be imminent, Red China's leadership Thursday sharply denounced the thousands who make up the mainland's communist bureaucracy.

Breaking the silence which has surrounded meetings of the party Central Committee and the current National People's Congress, or Parliament, the Peiping People's Daily said:

"There are persons who have become steeped in bureaucracy, exhibit feelings of insolence and self-satisfaction, forget realities, estrange themselves from the masses and do not care to discuss things with the masses."

The paper, which speaks for the Chinese leadership, went on to demand the "re-education" of many of the more than 12 million members of the Chinese party, the largest in the communist camp.

The phrase suggested a severe shakeup.

The unusually strong attack on the men and women who carry out the policies of the Peiping rulers raised the possibility they may soon be blamed in part for the present Chinese crisis. Until now the Chinese high command has attributed a 3-year succession of crop failures, and the subsequent collapse of Chairman Mao Tze-tung's industrial "great leap forward," to natural calamities.

Douglas Stoutly Defends Fees For Missile Work

Washington (AP) — Douglas Aircraft Co. officials testified Thursday they handled myriad major tasks as well as "dirty little details" to earn their $10.3-million share of an Army contract for Nike missile launchers.

Donald W. Douglas Jr., president of the company, insisted, too, that the $10.3 million was not all profit.

"What is it, if it isn't a profit?" asked Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

"We don't know how to determine it," Douglas replied.

R. L. Johnson, vice president in charge of Douglas' missile and space division, told the subcommittee the company had well earned the money it received on a contract it sublet to Consolidated Western Steel Co.

The Consolidated firm received $155.5 million for doing most of the actual work in producing the Nike launcher-loader equipment. The subcommittee says that by the time Douglas Aircraft added its $10.3-million fee or profit and Western Electric Co., as the top contractor, added $9.8 million for itself to cover profits and expenses the final cost to the taxpayers was $182.1 million.

The subcommittee was in the third day of public hearings on what McClellan calls profit pyramiding.

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said he considered the subcommittee charts gave a misleading and erroneous impression. He said he believed what was being shown as profit actually was payment for services, known-how, supervision and responsibility by Douglas in connection with subcontracts.

Fear Fishers Dead

Taipei, Formosa (AP)—Forty-three fishermen are feared to have perished in a sudden storm in Formosa Strait. Officials announced 6 bodies have been recovered and a search is going on for the missing men.

Small Clouds Keep Al, The Alligator In Sunday

Walt Kelly, creator of "Pogo", the opposum who appears daily on The Star's comic page, has turned down the suggestion of a Lincoln minister with the comment that "Ideas are no problem; it's getting out of bed that stumps me."

The Rev. A. C. Rueter, pastor of the American Lutheran Church in Lincoln, had suggested a strip showing Pogo on his way to Sunday meeting trying to get the other animals to attend too.

Albert the alligator would be unable to attend because of a small cloud on the horizon which might cause a drizzle, Miss Mamselle Hephzibah the skunk would be unwilling because if the sun should shine she'd want to get her flowers planted, and Churchy the turtle would refuse because the cloud might cause sleet and he's never learned to get around on ice very well.

Pastor Reuter commented in his church newsletter that he found himself "in deep water over this Fable of the Swamp" because: "these Walt Kelly characters don't do anything on Mondays either."

POSTAL RECEIPTS DECREASE BY 21%

The Lincoln Post Office reported March postal receipts off $388,474, representing a decrease of 21.4% from a year ago.

Receipts so far in 1962 total $1,238,897, only slightly under those for the comparable 1961 period.

Money orders for the month totaled $172,104 and postal savings on deposit amounted to $624,461.

Dr. Eyen Shifts Property Titles To 2 Relatives

Lincoln dentist Dr. Michael J. Eyen, charged with assault with intent to commit great bodily injury in the Victor Pechar acid-throwing incident, has transferred titles of his property, according to a deed filed with the Lancaster County Register of Deeds office.

Tht deed indicated that Dr. Eyen transferred the titles to his home and office to his mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Anne Eyen and Mrs. Josephine Eyen, respectively.

The deed listed the purchase price of the home and business at $29,000.

Dr. Eyen was admitted to the hospital Monday night where he is being treated for an overdose of a sedative.

He entered an innocent plea Monday in Lancaster County Court to the charges.

The titles were also transferred on Monday.

PTA Council For October Bond Issue

The PTA Council voted Thursday to support the Lincoln Public Schools October bond issue.

As evidence of its support, the council okayed the allocation of $500 to cover printing expenses and to set up an information bureau to help with the campaign.

In 1955, the council spent $200 to support the $10 million school bond issue.

Superintendent Steven N. Watkins thanked the unit presidents, school principals and PTA directors who voted their support:

"I want to express the appreciation, on behalf of the administration and the board. for PTA support for this issue and for other programs we have had."

Dr. Watkins said he will make specific recommendations to the school board Tuesday as to the amount of the issue and locations of new schools.

Mrs. Ferne Ihfe Gets $300 Award

Mrs. Ferne Ihfe, a teacher in the hard-of-hearing unit at Prescott School, is the recipient of a special $300 Lincoln-Lancaster PTA Council scholarship.

Julius A. Humann, public schools guidance director, explained to the council Thursday the difficulty in finding qualified teachers for deaf children.

The Lincoln system, he said, is the only Nebraska system that has a unit for deaf children, but it is hard-pressed to find additional staff members with advanced training.

Mrs. Ihfe already has a Master's degree in this area, he said, but she desires further training which will benefit the school system.

Sir Percy Sillitoe, Spy Nabber, Dies

Eastbourne, England (AP)—Sir Percy Sillitoe, former head of Britain's espionage and spy-catching service, died Thursday night. He was 73.

Sir Percy, whose official title was general director of security services, held the post from 1946 until retirement in 1953.

Rd. Maintenance Has New Criteria

State Engineer John Hossack said that the maintenance division of the State Department of Roads will now have a definite procedure for advancement of all personnel, as is the case in other divisions of the department.

Hossack said that all job classifications have been re-evaluated and that the new classifications will bring the employes more in line with the work actually being done.

The re-writing of classifications has resulted in slight pay increases for most maintenance employees, he said.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN MOTION PICTURES WITHOUT REALLY LYING

We assume that audiences come to the theatre to be entertained. Our biggest problem is to determine an adequate definition for the word "entertainment." To some it is the excitement of "West Side Story," while to others it is the drama of "Room At The Top," while to still others it is the rollicking good humor of an Alec Guinness comedy. Every once in a while a film comes along, and in an effort to classify it, we find that there has never been another like it. We do not want to present THE MARK purely as a sensuous, sensational film. We do not want to make a "sex film" out of THE MARK, even though it has one of the most tender love affairs ever filmed, in which a man achieves his first genuine relationship with a woman. THE MARK, we feel, is so much more than a love story. We do not want to refer to THE MARK as another adult drama from Great Britain, in a league with "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning" and "Room At The Top" We feel that THE MARK is far deeper-reaching than these and stands on its own merits. And we do not want to call THE MARK a psychological drama, since it is so much more searching a study of a man's innermost thoughts than any we could call to mind. For THE MARK has the ring of truth about it. THE MARK, in short, is a motion picture that breaks all the rules. It dares to be different. It dares to be exciting in a fresh way.

Permit OKd For 98-Bed Nursing Home

Homestead Nursing Home Inc. has been issued a building permit for a 98-bed nursing home at 54th and La Salle by the city building inspector's office.

The one-story structure will be H-shaped and of contemporary design. Construction cost estimate is $282,000, according to the permit.

Located on a 6-acre tract, the nursing home will be the first in Lincoln specifically designed for the purpose.

The building inspector has also issued permits to Food Fairs of Lincoln, Inc. for a new store, estimated at $79,000, at 831 No. 27th, and Schriers Market Inc., for a new grocery store, estimated at $60,000, at 1000 South.

Trip In State Planned For Nebraskans

Plans are now being completed for a second statewide tour of Nebraska to be offered to Nebraskans in order to illustrate the tourist potential of the state, gubernatorial assistant John Kelley said.

Kelley said the tour will probably be offered starting in early June.

The 6-day tour will cover 1,200 miles and will include more of the western part of the state. The first tour in 1961 had 28 participants, was held over a 5-day period, and covered 1,000 miles, primarily in the northeastern part of the state.

Kelley said that he will make the trip again this year as a representative of the governor. Morrison participated in the widely-publicized first tour.

According to Kelley, the tour will be handled this year by the newly-organized Nebraskaland Foundation. The cost to each participant will be about $100.

The tentative schedule includes visits to Hyannis, Gordon, Hay Springs, Chadron State Park, Fort Robinson, Toadstool Park, Agate, Scottsbluff, Harrisburg, Gering, Ash Hollow, Ogallala, and North Platte.

Grand Island Likely To Get Road Test Lab

State Engineer John Hossack said Thursday it looks very likely that a testing laboratory will be located in the Grand Island area.

But Hossack said "we still haven't decided exactly where" the lab would be located and added "it might not be this year, but next year."

The department's material and tests division analyzes and tests materials used in highway construction in the state, besides making soil surveys and investigating below surface conditions for all highway projects.

Why Armour Star is the Bacon the butcher brings home

You don't have to peer through all those bacon package windows. Just remember: only one out of 3 bacon sides rates the Armour Star. And of that prize side, 25% is carefully trimmed away. Only the meaty center-cut is quite good enough for Armour Star. Cherry-red lean. Firm white fat. Happy Armour Star facts.

Highway Work Info Meets Slated

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday that a series of 8 or 9 informational meetings will be held late this summer and early next fall by the State Highway Advisory Commission prior to the selection of the 1963-65 construction program.

The meetings will be similar to those held prior to selecting the 1961-63 program in which city and county officials, civic groups, farm groups and other interested individuals were invited to present testimony in regard to local road needs and conditions.

This testimony was considered along with the sufficiency rating in the selection of the 1961-63 construction program.

Gov. Morrison noted that he had been impressed with the interest and success of the informational meetings in 1960 and that he felt a great deal of valuable information had been obtained on local conditions.

Morrison said he would attend as many of the meetings as time would permit.

Commission Chairman J. R. McBride of Minden noted that the commission, at its regular monthly meetings, has been getting a considerable increase in delegations wishing to discuss highway matters.

McBride noted that funds have been committed for all of the projects which can be completed this biennium, and that new requests must come out of funds for the next biennium.

He suggested that delegations with highway requests for next biennium's construction should attend the informational meetings.

Krivosha Scores 'Faulty Statement' Against Renewal

"Those who are charging that urban renewal in Lincoln would demolish large areas of our housing are misleading voters with allegations that have no foundation in fact," a spokesman for the Organization for Urban Renewal said Thursday.

Norman Krivosha, legal counsel for the group, said: "They have charged that urban renewal would mean tearing down large numbers of homes and moving residents to other areas."

"The fact of the matter is," according to the spokesman, "only 3.3% of the housing in Lincoln is dilapidated. And we know that many of these homes can and should be renovated.

"Urban renewal does not mean the destruction of homes when repairs are possible and economically sound. In Mishawaka, Indiana, for example, only 125 homes in an area of 1,050 homes were considered so sub-standard that they had to be torn down."

Rally By Rails Sparks Upsurge

New York (AP) — A rally by rails provided the spark for a late stock market upsurge Thursday which gave the list its best advance in nearly a month.

It was the second rise in 15 stock market sessions.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 4.00 to 700.88, putting it once again above the significant 700 level which it pierced Wednesday.

Earlier in the day, the list put on one of its usual lackluster performances, with trading slow and prices showing a tendency to go lower.

The rally came in the final hour after rails had already moved upward moderately in a mixed market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.60 to 256.00 with industrials up 2.80, rails up .60 and utilities up .70.

An estimated $2.4 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the gain by the AP average.

Volume was 3.13 million shares compared with 3.29 million Wednesday.

Of 1,292 issues trade, 648 advanced and 395 declined. New highs for the year totaled 26 and new lows 123.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks advanced, 4 declined and two were unchanged.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds advanced and U.S. government bonds took their first loss this week.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Plight Of Retired Farm Couple In Lincoln Told

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A letter from a woman reader of this column in Santa Ana, California dramatizes the fact that, while voluntary business is capable of doing a job tailored to individual needs, compulsory governmental action in the economic field tends to regiment people.

Rukeyser

The inquirer reports that she gets $7.40 a month larger income as the aged wife of her husband than she was eligible for in light of her own earnings record. She asks plaintively: "Why is my Social Security check no more than the wife who did not work and pay into it?"

A good question, but the answer lies in the nature of government compulsion in an area previously served in this country solely by voluntary companies. In the nature of things, government tends to rob Peter to pay Paul. This closing of eyes to the contribution to the old age and survivorship system through the years by this lady and her employer is akin to other actions in the same vein. For example, Social Security ignores contributions, and returns more in relation to tax payments to the very low income workers. Similarly the system overpays those who came into the scheme just before the retirement deadline. Similarly, although old age benefits are nominally payable at 62 or 65, they are withheld from older gainfully occupied persons who earn in excess of $1,500 a year. And to underscore further the lack of equity in the provision a wealthy person 65 or over, with unlimited income from property in the form of dividends, interest, rents and royalties is in no way inhibited from collecting full social security benefits. While the nominal justification for such justification for such discrimination springs from the depression-bred desire to share the work by taking older folks out of the labor market, this irrelevant fallacy, in the case of a private voluntary insurance company would create a storm of protest. For in voluntary private insurance there is a relationship between the proceeds and the policyholder's contribution to the cost.

Q. Another reader in Lincoln, Nebraska reports that a former farm couple in their late seventies is near the end of its resources. The husband is blind, and savings were largely exhausted by a succession of hospitalizations. The couple had saved enough to buy a modest home and retained meager savings for burial. Income from Social Security is insufficient to meet their budget. According to the wife, the state gave blind assistance in the form of a cane and a Braille watch. The couple appealed to the county for supplementary poor assistance, but since the couple had assets in excess of $500 report they were ineligible.

A. Unfortunately the case is brought to our attention rather late for constructive counsel. Evidently the best approach is to discuss the case with a local social service agency, which can perhaps suggest available private philanthropy. In addition, if there are solvent younger relatives, the circumstances would warrant them in making voluntary periodic financial contributions.

But to a larger audience, the plight of this old couple is a dramatic warning of what inflation and business misfortune and perhaps lack of prudence can do to two fine persons who until recently were self reliant throughout their lives. Obviously, the insurance program was inadequate, especially in relation to hospitalization and major medical coverage, which now at long last is open to persons over 65.

It is late to be helpful to this couple which has been victimized by the tax eaters and the inflation, and their trouble was complicated by their own lack of familiarity with techniques for saving and investment in their productive years. The correspondent reveals that in the Great Depression the couple lost two farms. Evidently they were heavily mortgaged. In addition, without investment sophistication, this couple put all their savings eggs in one basket—in farm land.

The outcome is a humanized argument for a balanced investment diet, supplemented by coverage of foreseeable risks through insurance.

A single example such as this might do much more to set others on the prudent road to financial independence than a dozen heavy tomes on investment.

Q.—A professional man, a reader of the column, residing in Reseda, California, writes that he has been advised to cash in his life insurance policies, and replace them with term policies, investing the resultant cash in shares of mutual funds.

A.—No one should give up old insurance contracts without a careful analysis by a competent life underwriter. It is good procedure to ask the salesman to put his proposal in letter form, and send it to the home office of the insurance company for analysis and comment.

Before such a switch is made, the insured should know that there are important vested rights in an old policy. He should also be clear as to whether in his savings program he wants a portion of a balanced fund in fixed dollar investments, such as are provided through insurance contracts. As for mutual funds, some operate balanced investments, whereas others stress growth and invest primarily in common stocks.

Don't switch out of old financial structures without a clear understanding of what you are doing and the reasons for altering your previously determined setup. There is certainly no overall reason at this juncture why it is clearly desirable to get wholly invested in equities.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial prebloms. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of this newspaper. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Wheat Section Of Farm Bill Okayed By House Group

Washington (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee Thursday approved the first big section of the administration's 1962 farm bill — the wheat section — and left it largely unchanged.

The section was approved by a 22-13 vote in the committee. It is still subject to amendment when all the parts of the omnibus bill are put together into one later.

Acting Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., said he considered the vote a "straw in the wind" on how the other sections will fare before the committee. One of the most controversial, on feed grains, will be taken up Friday.

The wheat section rather close to the bill Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman presented to Congress and asked to be enacted.

It gives the secretary authority to set a national quota for wheat, in an effort to bring production into line with demand and help eliminate present mountainous surpluses.

A 55-million acre minimum national wheat acre — in effect since 1938 — is repealed, allowing the secretary to cut below that limit.

Wheat farmers would get a share of the national quota based on their production history over the last 5 years. The retired acreage would be the difference between the quota and the 1961 allotment.

If farmers vote down the plan in a referendum, they would get no price supports or program of any kind, and the secretary could authorize sale of 200 million bushels from government held stocks on the open market.

The secretary could require mandatory land retirement of that portion of farm wheat base (or allotment) reduced below the 55 million acre national wheat acreage could be grazed, but no payments would be made on that land.

The payments for land retirement could be made in cash or in kind (wheat from government stocks). These payments would be not more than 50% of the average that would have been grown on the land during the first year of the plan, 1963. That percentage would be reduced to 40 and 30% in succeeding years.

The original 3-price plan of the administration was cut to a two-price plan in subcommittee, and this was approved Thursday.

The secretary could make price supports available on the combined domestic and export certificate portions of the wheat crop at 75 to 90% of parity.

Farmers would get domestic-price certificates for their share of the domestic market in food wheat and for export. The rest would go into feed wheat, supported at $1.40 a bushel.

Avoca Residents Complain About Phone Service

Approximately 35 Avoca area residents attended a State Railway Commission hearing to complain against service by the Farmers Mutual Telephone Co., Avoca.

The residents charged that the company has not maintained the telephone lines for its rural subscribers as it is required to do. The company asserted, however, that the subscribers are responsible for maintenance of the lines.

The hearing came as a result of 5 consolidated actions from 23 Avoca residents.

Worker Placed On Probation

Omaha (AP) — Chief Federal District Judge Richard E. Robinson placed Leon Clarence McConnell, 19, of Grand Island on probation for 18 months Thursday.

McConnell pleaded no defense to one count of unauthorized disposal of government records. He was formerly a file clerk at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Omaha.

Assistant U.S. District Attorney Frederick Coufal said young McConnell had taken records home, apparently because he had fallen behind in his work.

Coufal said that when a friend told McConnell that he had violated the law in doing so, he threw the records in a vacant lot. The records have been recovered.
